33 Workers On Goldfine List for Gifts

Federal Employes In White House, on 'Hill' Given Checks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine testified Thursday he gave gifts of money to White House and congressional employes, Republican and Democratic.

Boston millionaire Goldfine said these were only $25 to $50 Christmas presents "to some of the poor workers who work in different offices." But a House subcommittee investigator, Francis X. McLaughlin, said he believes the biggest gift came to about $150.

The House subcommittee investigating Goldfine's affairs listed 33 persons as recipients.

One was identified, despite variance in spelling, as Eugene T. Kinnaly, administrative assistant to the House Democratic leader, Rep. John McCormack (Mass.) Kinnaly promptly said he got no cash, but some fancy foods and the like.

Two From White House

The White House acknowledged that two names on the list are of secretaries who work there—one of them assigned to Goldfine's close friend Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's top assistant.

Adams himself has received four-figure hospitality and gifts from Goldfine.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said both the women acknowledged receiving from Goldfine Christmas checks ranging from $35 to $75.

Hagerty said Miss Laura G. Sherman, No. 2 secretary to Adams, got $75 from Goldfine last Christmas as her only check from him. The other one named was Mrs. Helen Colle, assigned to Thomas E. Stephens, Eisenhower's appointments secretary. Hagerty said she has been receiving checks from Goldfine every year since 1950, in the Truman administration.

Committee Worker Included

Another on the list of Goldfine remembered was identified as a stenographer, Mary Ryan, working for the House Commerce Committee of which the investigating group itself is a branch.

The subcommittee chairman, Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark), told newsmen meanwhile that mysterious phone callers have been inquiring about him of residents in his district. He said he has heard rumors that lawyers and public relations men were trying to intimidate his committee.

"I've not considered it as yet an attempt to intimidate me," Harris said. "There must be some purpose, but I have no information as to what the intention is behind such calls."

The disclosure of the gifts came as the subcommittee probed into this bigger-scale puzzle:

Why did various Goldfine companies put out an estimated total of $776,879 worth of bank treasurer's and certified checks, some of which remained uncashed for as much as 16 years?

One question suggested the possibility that a public official unwilling to cash such a check might use it as collateral to borrow on.

But questions about these big checks brought refusal to answer

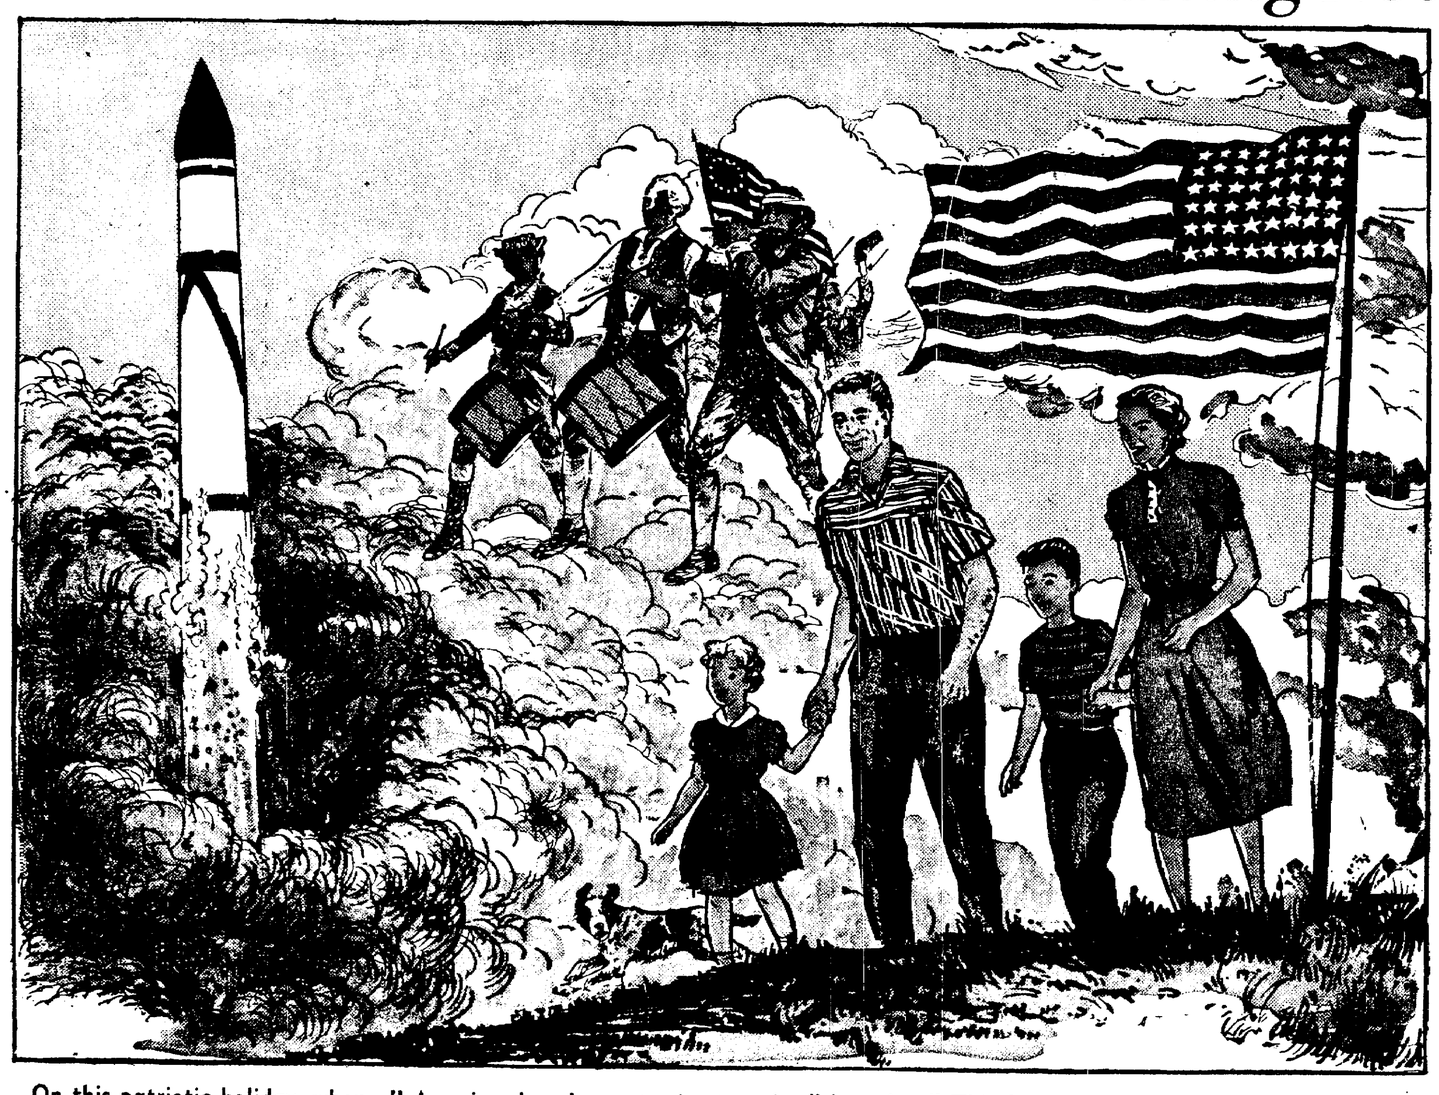
'Rocket's Red Glare' Has a New Meaning Now



On this patriotic holiday, when all America does honor to the nation, that phrase, "rocket's red glare," has a new meaning.

When Francis Scott Key wrote the words that later became part of the fabric of our patriotism, they meant something different. They referred to rockets all right—crude forerunners of the ones which soar the skies today.

But they were Congreve rockets, a new military device being used by the British in their quarrel with the young American nation in the War of 1812.

They looked something like the rocket which later was to become one of the major symbols of celebrating the Fourth of July —the "skyrocket." This later piece of fireworks, its tubular body filled with powder and its stick to be poked into the ground, made many a dad a rocket expert in the early years of this century.

Our modern rockets which have us on the threshold of the Space Age could hardly have been imagined by the British tars who touched off the Congreve rockets aimed at Ft. McHenry in the attack witnessed by Francis Scott Key, who wrote "The Star Spangled Banner."

But today, with regularity, tremendous American rockets course through the emptiness of limitless space. They bring a new symbol into being, representing the inspiration, the ingenuity and the courage of the Land of Freedom—born in this world July 4, 1776.

5 Men Injured Seriously; Test On Boom Fails

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Two men were killed in the sinking of a 150-foot barge today at the American Ship Building Co. yard here. Five other men were hospitalized with injuries resulting when a boom overturned while being tested with a 300-ton load.

Several hours after the accident the bodies of Jack Shamburger, 33, a welder, and Dominic Del Principe, 53, a labor crew boss, were recovered from the waters at the docks in the Black River near its mouth in Lake Erie.

About 30 men were aboard the barge, "Grasse River," during the testing, and most of them jumped to safety or held to the side of the barge until rescued.

Roger Repp, public information officer for the U.S. Army Corps Engineers' Buffalo district office, said the vessel, a gate-lifter being built for St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. at a cost of $1,631,050, was being tested with a 300-ton load at a 45-degree angle on its boom when it suddenly overturned.

Five injured men admitted to St. Joseph Hospital here and listed as in fair condition were:

William Zurinsky, 40, Lorain, possible skull fracture; Ralph Lake, 32, Elyria, Ohio, possible concussion; Herbert W. Severn 58, Paoli, Pa., possible knee and jaw fractures; Daniel S. Connelly, 49, Cleveland, possible fractured spine; David Trimble, 38, Huron, Ohio, possible skull and shoulder fractures.

The barge was designed to lift and lower locks on the St. Lawrence Seaway and to perform maintenance and salvage operations. Its hull was brought here about two months ago and it was to have been delivered at Massena, N.Y. July 12.

Repp said several previous tests had been made with the boom straight out and with a 300-ton load, but the collapse of the 90-foot a-frame and boom came on its first test at the 45 - degree angle with the maximum 300-ton load.

U.S. Studies Soviet Atom Parley Offer

Call by Khrushchev For Attack Safeguard Tentatively Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union called Thursday for a conference of experts to work out ways of preventing surprise attacks in the nuclear missile age. The United States, with some reservation, tentatively endorsed the proposal.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev made the proposition in a letter to President Eisenhower. He said recommendations developed at the experts' meeting would undoubtedly facilitate the adoption of decisions at an East-West summit conference.

Dulles Keynotes Reaction

Secretary of State Dulles gave the U.S. reaction at the White House after a lengthy meeting with Eisenhower and a session of the National Security Council. He was obviously speaking for the President as well as himself.

"On first reading the note does seem to contain some promise that we might do, in the area of inspection against surprise attack, something comparable to what we are now doing at Geneva in studying the technical problems that would be involved if there were an agreement to have a supervised suspension of (nuclear weapons) testing," Dulles said.

Answer to Ike's Suggestion

Dulles described the Soviet proposal as a response to a suggestion made by Eisenhower in a letter to the Soviet Premier earlier this year. Eisenhower had advocated expert studies of technical problems in the disarmament field, saying that success in agreeing on how the problems could be solved should help solve them.

In the letter delivered to the State Department and made public in Moscow Thursday, Khrushchev proposed that the United States and the Soviet Union take the initiative in calling a conference of military and civilian specialists in the near future to tackle problems involved in preventing a Tanker Blaze Out of Control At Tampa, Fla.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A 572-foot oil tanker caught fire Thursday night and the blaze raged out of control at her Port Tampa City mooring.

A spokesman said the vessel had a cargo of 278,000 barrels of oil. Another ship was endangered.

Firemen were called from several stations and 15 ambulances stood by. First reports said no one was injured.

Police kept everyone except the fire fighters half a mile from the fire.

The burning tanker, Gulf Deer, owned by Gulf Oil Company, was moored in a single slip at the dock next to another oil ship. Oil storage tanks dot the port area. The Gulf Deer is about 500 yards from the nearest tank.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

A glow from the fire could be seen several miles away, despite a steady rain. Wind whipped the flames to 50-70 foot heights.

Firemen said the fire was located amidships.

Agree To Share Atomic Secrets

U.S., Britain Will Join In Nuclear Partnership

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States pledged Thursday to help Britain build atomic submarines under a sweeping agreement restoring their sharing of nuclear weapons secrets.

At the same time, Secretary of State Dulles promised immediate help to France in obtaining atomic submarines which Premier de Gaulle wants to modernize the French navy.

Dulles talked over the French situation with President Eisenhower for two hours before flying to Paris for a round of talks with Gen. de Gaulle on a variety of problems—the Middle East, Russia and atomic.

His most pressing discussion appeared to be aimed at learning whether France is determined to push ahead alone to develop its own atomic bombs as some diplomatic reports have hinted.

The French would be expected to oppose any end to atomic testing, even with ironclad inspection guarantees, until De Gaulle decided how to move in this field.

The British - American atomic partnership agreement, signed at the White House by Dulles, gave Britain a preferred position in obtaining U.S. atomic secrets. The two countries shared secrets during the World War II bomb development.

The law setting the groundwork for this renewed collaboration was signed by Eisenhower Wednesday. Under it, some highly confidential data may be given only to friendly countries which have already successfully exploded their own nuclear bombs. Britain is the only one to date.

France, in order to qualify for added U.S. data and help, would have to achieve substantial progress in weapons manufacture, including successful testing of its own bomb.

Eisenhower notified Congress that under the agreement with Britain a complete nuclear propulsion plant for a submarine would be turned over, as well as necessary nuclear fuel to operate the craft for 10 years.

Eisenhower also sent along a letter from Secretary of Defense McElroy. The secretary said the British want to develop a nuclear submarine fleet at the earliest possible time without in any way delaying the U.S. program of replacing conventional subs with atomic undersea craft.

Crime-Busting Body Is Urged By McClellan

Mobsters Are Threat To Government, Says Senate Inquiry Head

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate crime prober declared Thursday the Mafia and its mobsters represent an arrogant challenge to the government.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), concluding four days of inquiry into activities of the secret criminal syndicate, proposed that a national crime commission be created to deal with the situation.

"The contempt with which the leaders of the underworld regard both their government and the citizens of this country has been demonstrated repeatedly during the past week by their refusal to cooperate, even in the slightest degree, with this committee," the Senator said.

McClellan is chairman of the special Senate Rackets Committee. The committee is engaged in a nationwide investigation of racketeers who are using labor unions and legitimate businesses to mask their illicit operations.

Thirteen alleged mobsters were called before the committee this week and all refused to talk on the ground that they might incriminate themselves. Pleading the Fifth Amendment, they refused to answer hundreds of questions about the Mafia, their criminal records and the sources of their income.

Fireworks Show Set at 9

Hot and Humid Holiday In Offing; Rain Possible

Marion and area residents can count on a muggy, blistering, old-fashioned Fourth of July with the possibility of showers along toward dusk.

The mercury boiled up to 91 in Marion Thursday and stood at 75 at 9 p.m. Another sizzler is in the offing today with a high of 90 predicted. A year ago the high reading was 78 with a low of 67.

THE WEATHERMAN says temperatures will range from the upper 80s over most of the state to as high as 92 in some southwestern counties. Generally fair skies are predicted although some clouds may blot out the sun in the afternoon.

Saturday's outlook is a bit soggier with Friday evening rains expected to continue in most parts of the state.

If the forecast holds true, fireworks displays scheduled tonight at Lincoln Park and the Marion Country Club probably will be washed out.

The Fourth of July Celebration Committee said it will reschedule the display for Saturday night if it even looks like rain tonight. Country Club officials said they have made no plans for restaging their aerial display if it rains.

A FULL AFTERNOON of activities is scheduled today at Lincoln Park. A community picnic at noon will start the holiday program. Contests will be held from 1:30 until 4:30 and from 6:30 to 8:30. Little League baseball is scheduled from 4:30 to 6:30.

If the weather should remain clear, the opening shot of the committee's fireworks display will be fired promptly at 9.

The Country Club swimming pool is expected to be a popular place this afternoon. Pool games for the elementary group start at 3 and a diving exhibition is on tap for 7 tonight. Family picnics and a holiday golf tournament also are in the offing. The club's fireworks display will start at dusk, depending upon weather conditions.

As the beginning of the three-day weekend drew near Thursday night, safety officials braced for the rush to the highways. Ohioans by the thousands were expected to take to the road over the holiday, bound for beaches, picnics or visits with families and friends. Inevitably, some of them will never finish the trip.

Law enforcement agencies planned to have every available man patrolling the highways, but

County Studies Sewer District Pact With City

The Marion County Commissioners expect to sign a contract for County Sewer District 1 with the city early next week.

Commissioner Howard McCurdy said the contract, signed Wednesday afternoon by Safety-Service Director Howard W. Travis on behalf of the city, now is in the hands of County Prosecutor Robert O. Stout.

Mr. McCurdy said Mr. Stout found some minor changes in the final contract and planned to discuss them with City Solicitor Riley Hall before turning the contract over to the commissioners for their signature.

The contract, which stipulates various conditions under which the city will permit suburban sewers in the district to connect to city sewers, must be signed by both the city and District 1 before any sanitary sewers may be constructer in the district.

Construction of trunk sewers to serve an area south east of the city including the Royal Oaks subdivision, the Vernon-Zachman Acres and the Marion Plaza shopping center is planned by private developers.

Diplomatic Snag Encountered

Rebels in Cuba Hold Up Release of U.S. Hostages

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—A diplomatic snag was reported Thursday to be blocking the release of 45 kidnapped North Americans still held by Cuban guerrillas in the hills of eastern Cuba. Informants here hinted rebel leader Fidel Castro was hedging on orders to his men to free the captives.

The orders were broadcast Wednesday by Castro's headquarters in the mountains of Oriente province. The broadcast said because of poor communications the rebel leader had known nothing of the kidnaping of 47 Americans and 3 Canadians by guerrilla bands headed by his brother Raul.

"If that is the case their liberty is hereby ordered," the broadcast said.

Four Americans and one Canadian were flown out of the rebel country in a U.S. Navy helicopter after U.S. Consul Park Wollam spent several days talking with the rebels.

A helicopter was readied to take off from the U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo. But Associated Press correspondent Bob Clark reported from there that none had left for a jungle rendezvous to pick up more captives.

Usually informed sources here said Fidel Castro would not permit the second helicopter flight. They said a snag had developed in the U.S. consular negotiations with the rebels and that Castro had decided now to hold out for further negotiations. There was no report on what the snag was or what Castro wants to talk about.

These reports could not be confirmed at the U.S. Embassy here. Wollam conferred there with U.S. Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith.

One of the five released prison-

Believed To Be Fake

Letter to Malik Carries Offer To Drop A-Bomb

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Embassy Thursday night said it had received an anonymous letter in which a man who claimed to be an American pilot proposed to drop an atomic bomb "not very far from the coast of England."

The official Soviet news agency, Tass, said the letter to the Soviet ambassador Jacob Malik, had been handed over to the British Foreign Office.

The U.S. Embassy's first reaction was: "We think the letter is a fake." The British Foreign Office also is understood to consider the letter a fake by the writer—not by the Soviet Embassy.

Tass issued the Soviet announcement on authority of the embassy. The letter, the embassy said, was signed "very truly yours, W." and addressed to Malik.

The writer said he was an American stationed in England. He said he planned to drop the bomb during a routine flight "at some point in the North Sea not very far from the coast of England so that too many people won't be killed. Our D-day will be sometime after July 1."

The Soviet announcement quoted the letter writer as saying:

"I can help your country a great deal and it is my firm intention to do so soon. Enough water has passed under the bridge and it's time to act.

"Dulles and NATO have turned their backs on the good will extended to them by the Russian leaders. Dulles will have to be forced to accept that good will.

"Of course, it will be up to you to provide a refuge for me and my crew, all of whom have agreed to act together with me. . . It is understood, of course, that we will reveal all the secret information we know to your intelligence service."

Fuel for Retaliatory Drive

Goldfine Case of Major Interest to Labor Chiefs

By VICTOR RIESEL

One of Bernard Goldfine's foes was to do business by telephone—automobile telephone, that is. The rag and real estate millionaire loved to phone from his roving limousine.

VICTOR RIESEL

Since none of these radiophone conversations were monitored, they — along with the heavy poundage of missing financial records — are lost to the inquisitors of today and the inquisitive of tomorrow. All this is having an unexpected impact on influential forces far from the turbulent congressional hearing room.

The impact is on labor leaders and their anonymous technicians who plan to use l'affaire Goldfine for a retaliatory drive against business — all business.

These labor men have been angered by proposals for the full exposure of their salaries, expenses, investments and other financial activities of themselves and their unions.

They now plan to fight for laws demanding exactly the same from all firms and their executives.

And labor's cry will be — "Remember Goldfine." Labor will demand the fullest exposure of all business spending.

THIS CAMPAIGN has been some time in the making. Recently the technicians of 57 international unions were surveyed by Dean Wilbur F. Pillsbury of Knox College, Ill.

He discovered that the advisers to the nation's major labor leaders believe it is "inevitable" that there will be federal laws forcing all industry to report their most intimate financial activity to the public — thus making available to the union chiefs the up-to-the-minute inner details of their financial lives.

Furthermore, these experts, outlining what seems to me to be the basis for labor's counter-offensive against business in the next two years, said that it was not enough for labor to have the records and open business books.

The union technicians said that union experts should be admitted into the plants to check on the accuracy of industrialists' claims of expenses and prices of repairs, expansion programs and other deductions from the companies' profit total.

SPECIFICALLY, the unions will ask for laws forcing businessmen to report publicly the executives' salaries, bonuses, pensions, stock options, life insurance payments and expense allowances.

Written into these proposals will also be demands for full exposure of dividend and interest payments to the investors, creditors, managers and directors and capital gains earned by these executives.

Still sensitive over the cry for full exposure of union expense tabs, the labor techincians say they want a "detailed and meaningful breakdown of administrative, general and selling costs, including donations and contributions to charitable and other philanthropic causes; expense of operating separate departments (for example, a sales department); categorical listing of income taxes and other taxes with appropriate details in the case of extraordinary adjustments and detailed costs which are charged to repairs and maintenance."

OTHER LABOR men point to the current demands that they report their connections with business firms.

In retaliation, some labor men now want laws to force businessmen and all company officials to reveal to the public "the intercorporate connections between officers and various companies."

But there is more than mere anger in this campaign for the next few years when labor expects friends to control Congress by the most whopping majority since 1937.

This will be a speedy pick-up of the drive launched a decade ago by Walter Reuther to "open the books" of American industry.

The labor attitude is that, while business is a private affair, its profits affect labor. And labor will open its drive to push back the ledger covers so it can know what "a fair share" of the income is.

PRIMER FOR AMERICANS

COPYRIGHT 1958, SIGURD S. LARMON

You live in the United States of America. You are an American.

Real Americans like their country. They are proud of it. They think it is a good place to live. And they want to keep it good—to keep it getting better and better all the time.

Why is America the way it is? What makes it a good place to live? The answer is simply this:

Throughout our history most Americans have believed that every person has certain rights and duties and responsibilities.

Americans have believed that there are certain things that people should do, and other things they should not do.

They have also believed in certain things that people are, and are not.

These things that people believe are called principles. This book is an attempt to state the Principles of America in simple, primer fashion so that you can understand them, learn them, and remember them.

This is important. It was because earlier Americans believed in these principles and guided their lives by them, that America has grown to be the good place it is.

If all of us learn and remember these principles—if we also guide our lives by them—then we can help to keep America growing better, and better, and better.

And if we follow these Principles of America, we can help make the world a better place to live in, too.

The Principles of America are these . . .

1. Each Person is of Importance and Value as an Individual.

This is the cornerstone . . . the foundation of all our other beliefs in a person's right to live his own life, to speak for himself, to choose and change his leaders.

From it comes our hatred of those "isms" under which the individual has no value or importance as a person, but is only one of many unimportant people who have to live the way their leaders tell them to.

Coming directly from that first principle are two other principles that are also part of the foundation of Americanism.

2. We Believe that All Men should Enjoy Personal Freedom.

3. We Believe that All Men are Created Equal.

It is worth noting that the Declaration of Independence expressed the belief that "all men are created equal." It did not state or imply a belief that men develop equally or have equal ability, or that they should ever be forced to an exact equality of thought, speech or material possessions.

That would be equality without freedom. Americans have always believed the two should go together.

From the days of the Declaration of Independence and the writing of the Constitution, Americans have known that even though Life, Liberty, and other unalienable rights are granted to man by his Creator, they require some protection by man himself.

So, in our Constitution, and in other laws of our land, there are set down principles to protect the rights and freedoms and equality of individuals. And these principles play an important part in keeping America a good place in which to live.

4. The Right to Freedom of Speech.

This includes freedom of the press, of radio, of motion pictures, of every means by which man may express his thoughts on any subject.

5. The Right to Freedom of Assembly.

As we believe in the right of individual action, so we believe that individuals should be free to act together for the benefit of all. This IS Democracy.

6. The Right to Freedom of Worship.

Not only is the individual free to worship as he will, but religions themselves are free and equal . . . regardless of their size or their beliefs.

7. The Right to Security of Person and Property.

Not just one, but three Amendments to the Constitution (4th, 5th and 14th) protect against illegal search and seizure, or loss of life, liberty, or property, without "due process of law."

8. The Right to Equal Protection before the Law.

As individuals are equally important, so laws must apply equally to all, without special privileges for any particular individuals or groups.

9. The Right to Freedom from Slavery.

This includes "the right to quit," for no individual may be forced to work for another.

10. The Right to Petition the Government.

The legally guaranteed right of the individual to "petition the government for redress of grievances" is evidence of the American belief that government is the servant, not the master, of the people.

11. The Right to Vote for people of your choice.

This is the individual's most potent weapon in the protection of his rights and freedoms . . . a weapon that to be effective must be constantly and wisely used.

The Principles of America hold that every man has . . .

12. The Right to a Good Education.

13. The Right to Live where he pleases.

14. The Right to Work where he wants to.

15. The Right to Join and Belong to an Organization.

16. The Right to Own Property.

17. The Right to Start his Own Business.

18. The Right to Manage his Own Affairs.

19. The Right to Make a Profit or to Fail, depending on his Own Ability.

There are other, similar rights of individual action which are Principles of America, but all of these individual rights may be combined in these two broad principles . . .

20. Every Man is entitled to Freedom and Equality of Opportunity.

21. Every Man may Earn his Living When, Where, and How he wants to.

There are also Limiting Principles . . .

Principles of individual freedom sometimes clash with those of individual equality. Therefore our rights as individuals must be limited, and those limitations are themselves principles.

22. The Rights of any Individual shall not Interfere with the Equal Rights of Other Individuals.

Your right to swing your arms stops where the other fellow's nose starts.

23. The Rights of any Individual shall not Interfere with the Welfare of the People as a Whole.

Freedom of speech does not give the individual the right to shout "fire" in a crowded theatre.

24. Every Individual owes Obedience to the Laws under which he Lives.

The individual has the right to talk against a law, to work and vote to change that law, but NOT to disobey that law.

Principles that are Patterns of Behavior . . .

Many of our principles of individual freedom and equality are guaranteed to us by law.

But we have other beliefs, other general rules of action and conduct that have grown to the status of principles. They have stood the test of time. They have worked. They have become a basic part of the way we live and of the way we look at things.

These principles, too, are foundations of Americanism. They are as true, if not more true, today than they were in 1850 or in 1750.

If America stays free, they will still hold true in 2050.

25. Every Man shall be Judged by his Own Record.

A man's family background, his race or his religion, is not as important as what that man himself can do, for Americans believe a man must stand on his own feet.

26. Every Man is Free to Achieve as much as he can.

We believe that where any boy may become President, where any man may achieve greatness, there is the greatest incentive for every man to do his best.

27. To Achieve anything, a Man should be Willing to Work.

Americans have always known that "you don't get something for nothing," that to get anything takes a willingness to work and to work hard.

28. Achievement also Depends upon the Ability to do a Good Job.

Add to "willingness to work" the ability to produce results and the combination is the basis for most individual achievement in our country.

29. Every Man has the Right to a Fair Share of the Results of his Work and his Ability.

Because of this belief, America has not only produced more goods, but they have been more fairly and more widely shared by more people than in any other country.

30. Security is the Ability of a Man to Provide for himself.

The only true security for any individual is the opportunity, the ability, and the determination to work and plan and save for his own present and future. Self-reliance is vital to individual independence and personal freedom. No man can be "proud and free" who depends on others for his security.

31. When an Individual cannot Provide his own Security, the Responsibility should be Assumed by Others.

We believe that no one should starve, or be without adequate clothing and shelter, so those who have more than their basic needs share the responsibility of providing the essentials of security for those who need help.

Printed as a Public Service by

THESE CIVIC-MINDED FIRMS AND INSTITUTIONS

32. Every Individual must Deal Fairly with other Individuals.

Honesty, fairness, and personal integrity are virtues that help free and independent individuals get along with each other without losing their independence.

33. Fair and Free Competition is a Good Thing.

Americans have always believed that competition among individuals or groups encourages greater effort which in turn brings greater benefits to all.

34. Cooperation among Individuals is Vitally Important.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER has said: "The freedom to compete vigorously accompanied by a readiness to cooperate wholeheartedly for the performance of community and national functions, together make our system the most productive on earth."

Principles of Individual Responsibility . . .

Freedom for individuals carries with it an equal responsibility to use that freedom wisely. Therefore, if we wish to remain free, we must faithfully fulfill our responsibilities as free men.

35. The Individual is Responsible for himself and his Family.

He must protect them and provide for their present and future well-being.

36. The Individual has Responsibilities to the Groups of which he is a Part.

He must give of his best to his community, his church, his employer, his union, and to every group in which individuals cooperate for their mutual benefit.

37. The Individual has Responsibilities to his Country.

He must be an active citizen, interesting himself in local, state, and national government, voting wisely, thinking and speaking and acting to preserve and strengthen freedom, equality and opportunity for every individual.

38. The Individual has Responsibilities to the World.

Man's horizons have expanded. What happens in the world affects him, and his actions can affect the world. Today, therefore, each man has a responsibility to act—and to encourage his country to act—so that freedom and cooperation will be encouraged among the people and the nations of the world.

For America's Future

Most of us are still confident of ourselves and of our country. We do not claim perfection. But we have faith in our ability to move forward, to improve, to grow, to provide more and more individuals with more and more of everything they want and need in life . . .

If we, the people of the United States, want to have more material benefits, we must believe in and follow these two principles:

39. The only way we can Have More is to Produce More; and

40. As we Produce More, we must make it possible for More and More People to Enjoy that which we Produce.

If we, the people of the United States, want to have a better life, spiritually as well as materially . . .

41. We must stand firmly for our Beliefs, our Rights, our Principles.

WALT WHITMAN, writing nearly 100 years ago, put it this way:

"There is no week, nor day, nor hour when tyranny may not enter upon this country if the people lose their supreme confidence in themselves . . ."

There are those who would chip away our confidence so that their special brand of tyranny might creep into America. They must not succeed. So, let us ask of every plan, or act, or idea . . .

Is it With or Against the Principles of America?

Compromise Water Projects Bill Is Signed by Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Thursday signed a compromise version of a bill, similar to one he has twice vetoed, to authorize future construction of 1½ billion dollars worth of water projects.

The compromise version was worked out by Congressional leaders and administration representatives in an effort to get a measure acceptable to Eisenhower, who vetoed one bill in 1956 and a somewhat similar version earlier this year.

Congress acceded to presidential wishes on some projects; the administration yielded on others. Eisenhower noted in a statement that twice in the last two years he found it necessary to veto rivers and harbors and flood control bills. But he said practically all of the "shortcomings" of the earlier bills are eliminated in the one he approved Thursday.

The bill authorizes future construction of about 155 navigation, flood control; beach erosion and power projects at a federal cost of $1,556,230,600. The bulk of the projects would be built by Army engineers.

Since the bill is an authorization measure it carries no appropriations. Congress must vote funds before projects can be built.

Projects authorized, together with the amount of authorization, include:

OHIO: Vermillion harbor $474,000; Ohio River at Gallipolis $66,000; Cleveland Harbor $14,927,000; Toledo harbor $859,000.

KENTUCKY: Licking River, maintenance only.

Flood Control

OHIO: West Branch, Mahoning River $12,585,000.

Attorney General Rules on Cases at Sandusky, Warren

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The attorney general ruled Thursday that a county prosecutor can bring a joint action against a defaulting public official and his bonding company, and that action must be brought in the county where the default took place.

Atty. Gen. William Saxbe ruled for Sandusky County Prosecutor Robert E. Culbert after the prosecutor raised the question in connection with a finding by state Auditor James A. Rhodes against a former justice of the peace of Fremont Township.

The justice of the peace moved to Toledo and currently is an inmate of Ohio Penitentiary, Prosecutor Culbert said. The finding of $8,473.73 was filed April 3, 1958.

In another ruling, Saxbe held conviction in U. S. courts for transporting a stolen motor vehicle across state lines is not the same thing as being convicted of "stealing a motor vehicle" and cannot be used in charging a person under Ohio law as an habitual criminal. He gave the ruling for Warren County Prosecutor Fred E. Jones.

The Outer Banks of Cape Hatteras, N.C., where the pirate Blackbeard met a violent death, is also the place where the Wright Brothers flew the first airplane on Dec. 17, 1903.

Indians on Reservation Get Educational Advice

FORT HALL, Idaho (AP)—Gov. Robert Smylie of Idaho has advised reservation Indians that it is their responsibility to see that Indian children get an education.

"As our country grows and technical advances are made, the need for an education will be greater and greater," Smylie told a meeting of Indians at this Southeastern Idaho reservation.

Lyndhurst Man Kills Self; Father Wounded

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert Gibb, 29, wounded his father James and then killed himself with a shotgun at the family home in Lyndhurst late Thursday, the coroner's office reported.

The father was taken to a hospital with a hip wound.

Mrs. Ella Gibb told police the two men were outside the house and engaged in a brief argument before the shooting.

The weapon had been used for small game and Mrs. Gibb said she thought it had been hidden away.

Increase Reported In Ohio Fatalities

A more than five per cent increase in the accidental death rate was marked up in Ohio during the first four months of this year, the Ohio State Safety Council reported today.

In the four-month period, 1,379 Ohioans were killed accidentally and of these 532 died in accidents around the home, 505 were killed in traffic accidents, 279 were involved in accidents in public places and 62 were occupational casualties.

Ralph R. West, president of the council, noted that for the first time in many years, home deaths exceeded traffic deaths. He said there was an unusual number of deaths from poisonous gas and vapors, fire and explosion, and falls.

The council predicted also that the July accidental death tally may be about the same as last year when 440 Ohioans died, 170 in traffic accidents, 142 in public places, 106 in the home and 22 at work.

Husband Faces Bigamy Count When Wife Becomes Detective

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Joann Anderson, 29, a bride of three weeks, didn't know when she answered the telephone Wednesday night that the caller was an amateur sleuth.

"Mrs. Anderson?" the caller asked.

"Yes, this is Mrs. Anderson."

"Thank you."

The caller hung up. A few minutes later the doorbell rang and Mrs. Anderson met Mrs. Anderson, much to the dismay of Raymond R. Anderson, 37.

Police came and arrested him for investigation of bigamy.

The sleuth was Mrs. Erma Anderson, 34, Anderson's wife of five years.

Wife No. 1 said she did some checking after Anderson left home June 11 to visit his parents in Quaker City, Ohio. When he returned five days later, wife No. 1 pointed out he had not visited his parents. She quoted him as saying.

"I know. I got an apartment. I want to be alone and think a while."

Wife No. 2 said she married Anderson June 11, the same day he left his Columbus home, in Sullivan County, Tenn. She said she is the former JoAnn Sparks of Sullivan County.

Wife No. 1 said she became suspicious about her husband's new apartment when he refused to tell her the address. Then, last Monday, she relates, she found a sales slip in his car signed by wife No. 2.

By some fancy detective work, wife No. 1 located the Columbus parents of wife No. 2. They furnished Anderson's new phone number.

Says wife No. 1: "I still love him and I'm going to get a lawyer."

Says wife No. 2: "I love him more than ever and I'll win him from her."

Wife No. 1 says Anderson was married and divorced before he married her.

Minimizing the Maximum

The startling oddity about holiday traffic tolls that snuff out the lives of hundreds of Americans is the probability they never can be eliminated — at least not in terms of existing cars, highways and human nature.

Death and injury are inevitable when millions of Americans take to the road on a holiday weekend. Even if all drivers were up to snuff, and they never will be, there would be enough unavoidable car vs. car and car vs. pedestrian collisions to keep hospital emergency rooms busy.

Nevertheless, there is an almost fool-proof way to stay out of traffic accidents during holiday weekends. That is to stay out of traffic in exactly the same way that prudent citizens stay out of trouble when the roads are icy in winter. They do not venture out on them until the risk has been minimized.

Aside from the remote possibility that an errant car might leave the street and claim a traffic victim in his own house or yard, the sure way to avoid being a traffic fatality is to stay home when the maximum risk is being presented.

This would raise hob with holidays. It would take a large percentage of the frenzy out of Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day. But it would minimize the maximum risk of holidays, too.

If no one drove a car without a compelling reason or went swimming without knowing how to swim, there would be no more deaths over a holiday weekend than over any equal number of days in any other time of the year.

U.S. Changes Approach at Brussels

To all official intents and purposes, the criticism of the U.S. exhibit at the Brussels World's Fair that caused President Eisenhower to send a personal agent abroad for a checkup has been disposed of.

The White House has made it known there will be some changes made, but nothing drastic. The United States will revise its exhibit in a few particulars, but it will not alter the theme.

The outraged squawk that started the uproar, when a New England businessman visited the fair and was upset by the U.S. exhibit, has been taken into official account but it has not panicked the government.

Perhaps a little history has been made.

The United States put a best foot forward at the Brussels World's Fair that did not have a steel-toed shoe on it. For once, it did not try to bowl over foreigners with the might of its machinery. It risked its standing as the most envied and most admired nation with a new and different approach.

It put emphasis on the American people's pursuit of happiness. It chucked overboard the hammer-hard emphasis on gross materialism that has been its trademark. Private industry's exhibits at the fair were designed to show what was new in the age of machinery, so the government was designed to show what Americans thought about and ate and wore.

Those who have seen the exhibit agree it is a masterpiece of "soft selling," which is the art of making the customer be his own salesman.

Its admirers believe the U.S. exhibit signifies to Europeans that this country is outgrowing its psychopathic urge to prove it is more materialistic than the abjectly materialistic Communists, who preach that materialism is the beginning and the end of everything.

They think the United States has scored a decisive point in the battle for men's minds, which is no battle at all unless it offers men an alternative between man as a victim of materialism and man as a master of his soul.

Everything depends on what we are trying to prove.

The New England businessman who thought we were still trying to prove what no longer needs proving — that Americans know about machinery from A to Izzard — has been reminded as gently as possible that the United States also needs to prove that civilization in this corner of the international wilderness has progressed to the point where machines are servants, not their masters.

United Appeals Goal Well Within Reach

Reaching the 1958 Marion County United Appeals goal of $204,000 will require a maximum effort from all hands, but it can be done.

Last year's victory, the first ever achieved in Marion County by the "final" report meeting, came despite the fact that the national economy was on a downslope.

The goal is $10,575 higher this year, but the economic dip is adjudged by many experts to have leveled out and an upturn is expected by fall.

Consequently, there is reason to hope the psychological climate for the 1958 campaign may be improved over 1957, when sheer determination and thoroughness overcame many obstacles to gain a tremendous triumph.

Despite the increase in the goal, budgets were carefully checked and pared at every organizational level. The major factor in the boost was the addition of the Marion County Mental Health Clinic and the inclusion of the Marion Union Rescue Mission as a full member after a probationary year.

Both these agencies will fill vital community needs and will give United Appeals participants ample opportunity to see their dollars in action.

We expressed a conviction last October that the victory then had broken the barrier and set the pattern for a string of successes.

We continue to be confident as the United Appeals organization moves steadily deeper into preparations for the 1958 effort.

Be Wise, Harry!

Like millions or others, we get a kick out of Harry Truman, because he so obviously gets a kick out of himself.

In an era when people do not conceal their boredom, the former president of this country gives the impression of being a wide-eyed visitor to the big city. This is why we'd hate to see him get hurt needlessly when he returns from his trip abroad.

He has been testing a buzz-saw with an inquisitive finger, presumably because he thinks it is his political duty to take full advantage of Sherman Adams' errors of judgment in accepting gifts from Bernard Goldfine. He has been putting on his favorite act as a political warhorse.

He could get hurt. If he tries to justify the "mess in Washington" that was cleaned out in 1952, comparing Sherman Adams with key figures in the scandals of his administration, it will be necessary to tick off all the Truman appointees who went to jail for stealing money from the public, which is quite a different matter from allegations of influence over independent agencies that are denied by the agencies.

Democratic headquarters should keep Harry out of it. No one wants to see him get hurt for things he probably could not have prevented even if he had known they were going on.

They'd Go the Limit

The new international sport of kidnaping Americans bids fair to flourish for a long time. There is no way to stop it.

Oh of course there are those who say they would stop it by doing whatever might be necessary, but they start to hem and haw when asked what might be necessary.

It would never do to drop an atomic bomb, not even one of the small ones. Old-fashioned airplane bombing would be out of the question. So would strafing and fire-bombing.

Backing up a battleship in the harbor and blasting at mainland targets with the 16-inch guns is out of style. Sending the U.S. Marines splashing ashore is no longer done—not even in TV movies.

Diplomats still write tart notes and find ways to pass the word along through secret, confidential channels, but that is of no use without the threat of action. It is too much like conducting collective bargaining without the threat of a strike or a lockout.

Yet, there are these people who say they would stop the kidnapers by doing whatever might be necessary. They say it, moreover, in a manner which indicates that the officials in charge are unwilling to go the limit. Just what is the limit? It would be interesting to know.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

A 22-year-old woman, Sue Huron, is the new world champion nonstop talkingest female, having won the title from Mrs. Edith Fisher in a radio Gab Marathon in the North Carolina finals. The winner talked for 92 hours without taking a deep breath. Millions of married men are refusing to recognize the champ.

Both Sue and Edith must be strictly amateur talkers, not even semipros if they can't gas away for more then 92 hours, they say. "It wouldn't give my Missus a warm-up," said one husband today, "and there are tens of thousands of women who don't get under full headway, with a following wind, before that much time has elapsed."

THE AMERICAN ASSN. of Husbands With Split Eardrums has filed a protest, claiming that the fact an unmarried female beat a married woman for sustained gabbiness indicates a fix."

The organization demands to know what conditions prevailed during the talk marathon. First of all it should be required that all contestants be married, as it is only among married women that a really trained, inspired, determined, heavy-duty gasser can be found.

In Carolina the contestants were allowed to read from a mail-order catalogue. The official protest declares this renders the championship contest null and void. "A gal who can keep talking 92 hours on her own without reading doesn't belong in the race," the protest says.

OUR AUNT CYNTHIA, comparatively a quiet woman, once talked the greater part of a month without stopping. Uncle Simeon kept her going by nonstop sneering and such occasional remarks as "Izzat so?" — "Can I get a word in edgeways?" — "Louder; they can't hear you across the street."

She frequently talked 92 hours just to keep in condition. She once met Gabby Whitherspoon, one of the world's greatest gum-beaters and whipped her in a spectacular finish. The stewards upheld Gabby's claim of a foul and took Cynthia's number down. Gabby said my aunt used a hidden throat spray in the stretch and was guilty of the illegal use of echoes. Aunt Cynthia demanded a return bout. She would have won if she hadn't lost her uppers at the gate and had to finish with only half her false teeth.

Send Him In!

Day for Rededication

By Jack N. Adams

In an air-tight, upright glass and bronze case, the three most precious documents in the United States, repose securely in stately dignity.

At the top is the Declaration of Independence. Below it are the Constitution and Bill of Rights.

Each night the case and its historic documents are lowered into a bombproof, fireproof, shockproof vault 20 feet below the floor of the National Archives Exposition Hall in Washington.

By day, a guard is on duty, ready to press a button that instantly will lower the case and contents to safety should they ever be endangered.

Never before in history has any nation taken such elaborate precautions to protect its most valuable tangible possessions. And it has not always been so with us.

WHEN THE BRITISH sacked the national capital in 1814, these charters were stuffed into a crude linen bag and carried to Virginia. At other times they have been hidden in Ft. Knox and other secret places for safekeeping.

Had the parchments been lost or destroyed, the principles they proclaimed were so indelibly inscribed on the hearts of freedom-loving men and women of the time that they would have been preserved for our generation—and this nation would have endured without their tangible evidence.

Now the parchments are as safe from destruction by man and the elements as it is humanly possible to make material objects. But at the same time the rights they proclaim are more endangered than at any time in the past.

TODAY, THE 182ND anniversary of the birth of our country, is just another holiday. Little significance is attached to the sacrifices of those patriots of the Continental Congress who signed the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776. There are but few expressions of gratitude for their courage which made it possible for us to enjoy the "unalienable rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Demonstrations of patriotism are considered "corny" today. The real significance of the day will be lost in our phobia for statistics. Headlines will record the slaughter on the highways, drownings, tragedies, baseball attendance, the number of hot dogs eaten and the amount of soda water that was consumed.

The days when America still had a frontier spirit and flavor, when people who loved their land and liberty were unashamed of their patriotism, are gone.

In place of the old unabashed celebrations, Americans today will celebrate the day fighting traffic jams and flocking to the beaches to parboil themselves in the sun.

THE "SMEAR" has been the popular weapon of the irresponsible since the beginning of time and the early history of this country was no exception. George Washington, during his presidency, was called more nasty names than have been tossed at any president of recent years.

On July 6, 1796, Washington wrote to Thomas Jefferson that "every act of my administration would be tortured . . . in such exaggerated and indecent terms as could scarcely be applied to a nortorious defaulter, or even a common pickpocket."

Even Jefferson was called a coward during his administration two presidents later.

Despite these character assassinations, the country survived and prospered because there were men of integrity in high places.

Today money is too often more important than morals. It is an ever-increasing danger that life and liberty are the inalienable rights—not of all men, but only of those who can buy them.

We see "government of the people, by the people, for the people" being surrendered to special interests and pressure groups without being stirred from our complacency.

Elected officials see an underworld regime threatening the very foundations of our democracy but are too timid to act in an election year.

In the pursuit of happiness have we forgotten that freedom is not a perpetual endowment that can be preserved in a helium-filled case?

FREEDOM IS AN ideal. It is our heritage because our forefathers fought and died for it. Too long, patriotism has been considered as "strictly for the birds," except by a relatively small handful of the population.

Today, July 4, 1958, this nation's birthday anniversary, it would be worth a few minutes of our time to read the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and the Bill of Rights and reflect on the occasion that gives us the happiness we so zealously pursue.

Dream House

By Truman Twill

Occasionally, we talk about our dream house — the one we'd like to build some day. It would embody a revolutionary concept in architecture.

The idea would be to strike a perfect balance between functionalism for modern living and attractive design with permanent appeal. It is our notion that permanent appeal is the test of architecture — whether it will look good a century from now, or two centuries, like the designs that still make tourists drool in New England towns.

Our dream house would start with a hole in the ground, which is as indispensable in a functional house as a set of pockets in a pair of pants, because the people who are going to live in a house must have a place to put the accumulation of stuff that goes hand in junkwagon with modern living.

Particularly if there are going to be kids around the premises, some place must be provided for them to stir up the endless clutter that is society's best antidote for juvenile delinquency. The clutter represents all the things kids do that keep the devil from finding mischief for their idle hands.

So the dream house would have a basement . . .

At the other extreme, it would have an attic for storing, on stand-by status, all the stuff that cannot be hidden away in the basement. This is, of course, a revolutionary idea. An attic, says the dictionary, is the part of a building next below the roof — so it was a simple thing to make this part of the building large enough to be of some use.

But this would not be the only revolutionary thing. Besides the attic, the dream house would have a thing called a second floor, where a householder with a headache could go to lie down if he wanted to be alone; where a mother could stow away a child out of sight and out of mind; where a character fed up with the way the world was going could sneak off and be alone.

There would be bedrooms and bathrooms and places to store things on the second floor. If the beds weren't made every day, it would not matter, because no one would have any business up there, except in case of fire or sickness.

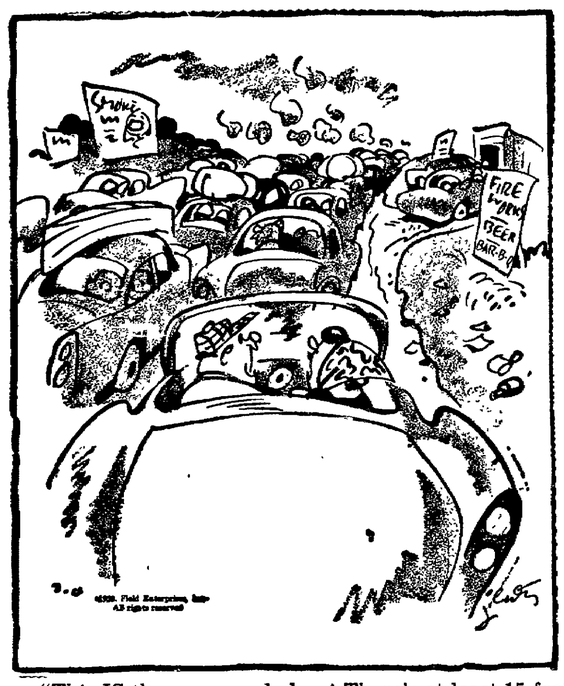
The first floor would be startling, too. There would be a sensational thing called a dining room, with a dining room table and special chairs. The kitchen would be off by itself so a woman could suffer in privacy if the roast fell to the floor and had to be rinsed off.

There would even be a previously unheard of facility in the dream house called a sewing room, where a housewife could drop pins without being in danger of standing accused of bad housekeeping.

If the money held out, there would even be a novelty called a pantry, which could be shut up like a grocery store when it was closing time and locked in emergencies, such as when the lady of the house was going to have a party the next day and did not want the refreshments to be eaten by midnight marauders.

Outside, the dream house would look like those houses in New England. What looks any better?

GRIN AND BEAR IT — by George Lichty



"This IS the open road, dear! There's at least 15 feet between us and the car ahead!"

Daily Bible Thought

"He will beautify the meek with salvation." Ps. 149:4. A mother who has sacrificed for a large family thinking only of them and devoting herself to them is sure to be beautiful. Selfishness brutalizes the countenance. You can't put beauty on from the outside.

Monument to Jefferson

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — "Is not American already independent?" demanded Samuel Adams of Massachusetts after Colonial forces had fought three battles against the British.

HAL BOYLE

"Then why not declare it?"

The statesmen of 1776 moved leisurely toward the framing and adoption of "the noblest document in political history."

The North Carolina Legislature voted on April 12 to join any other colonies in a "Declaration of Independence." Virginia on May 15 voted to initiate the declaration. And so on June 7 one of its delegates, Richard Henry Lee, arose in the Continental Congress and moved that:

"These united colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states."

HELPED BY the wisdom of Benjamin Franklin and John Adams, young Thomas Jefferson composed the historic document in 18 days. To him it was more than a political statement. It was a profound testament of the imperishable rights of all men.

As any young author would, Jefferson writhed at the changes Congress made in his masterpiece. It deleted his censure of the British people and his stirring denunciation of human slavery. It inserted appeals to "Providence." It tightened a few of his florid phrases.

But the document remains as Jefferson's mightiest monument.

Although Congress voted independence on July 2, it didn't adopt the Declaration until July 4, and it wasn't publicly read until several days later.

New York abstained from the voting, and Pennsylvania and Delaware cast divided votes. But by July 15th, when the Declaration was ordered engrossed, the vote had become unanimous.

It is doubtful if anyone signed the Declaration the day Congress passed it. Some men who voted for it on July 4 never did get to sign it; some signed it who were not present when it was first passed. The final signature—that of Thomas McKean of Delaware—wasn't affixed until 1781.

What sort of men were they who risked the hangman's noose to put their names to the Declaration? Not at all the immature or irresponsible firebrand types often associated with revolution.

Missing are some of the great leaders for liberty of the period, including George Washington, whose tool then was the sword rather than the pen.

Only two of the 56 signers were bachelors. Sixteen were married twice. The signers fathered 325 children—Carter Braxton of Virginia leading with 18.

Slightly more than half were Episcopalians. The rest were Congregationalists, Quakers, Baptists, Presbyterians and Catholics. Ten were the sons of preachers.

The last signer to die—and the oldest at the time of his death—was Maryland's Charles Carroll of Carrollton. He lived to be 95. First to die after the signing was John Morton of Pennsylvania in April 1777.

SOME PAID A costly price, losing their lands and fortunes in the Revolution.

Some died violently. George Whythe of Virginia was poisoned by a grandnephew, impatient for his inheritance. Button Gwinnett of Georgia was killed in a duel with a political rival.

Most of the signers remained active in public life. Two later became presidents—Jefferson and John Adams. Elbridge Gerry served as vice president under James Madison.

The document itself was nearly captured by the British in both the Revolution and the War of 1812, twice narrowly escaped being destroyed in fires.

Over the years it found refuge in 10 cities in five states before in 1921 the Library of Congress gave it a permanent home, and made it a national shrine.

Reds Resort to Blackmail

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON — It is no longer just an American, Secretary of State Dulles, who is calling the East German Communists blackmailers. They themselves have made it indisputable that they are both blackmailers and second-raters.

An East German spokesman said Wednesday the nine American soldiers held captive 26 days since their helicopter wandered there would be released at once if the United States would recognize the East German government.

The United States, allied with West Germany, has refused to recognize the East German Communist government as legitimate. The American position is that the East German Communists are not a government but the puppets of the Russians.

AT A NEWS conference set up by the German Reds, the American captives Wednesday told newsmen they accidentally landed in East Germany the East German police first took them to Soviet army officials, not to East Germans.

This action by the East German police was tacit admission that the Russians, not the East German Communists, were the sovereign power in East Germany. The East Germans have been pretending they are sovereign and should be recognized by us.

After repeated requests the East Germans invited AP's Berlin correspondent Seymour Topping, and eight newsmen who represent European Communist newspapers to a conference with the American prisoners.

How the East German Reds came to do this—in view of what developed and the position it put them in the eyes of the world—is almost unbelievable for its stupidity and clumsiness.

The Russians, after the American prisoners were delivered to them by the East German police, turned them back to the East Germans. Russia since has insisted the problem of releasing them involved the United States and the East Germans.

This was an apparent effort to force American recognition of the East German regime. Dulles branded these tactics blackmail Tuesday at his news conference.

Dulles took this position:

"I can't think of anything that would be worse than, in effect, to pay blackmail to get people out.

"We are willing to use any proper methods to get them out short of paying blackmail. If we started doing that, then that would only encourage further efforts to use Americans as hostages."

THIS COUNTRY, allied with Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government on Formosa, has refused to recognize the Chinese Communist government on the mainland as the legitimate government of China.

The Chinese Reds had held 40 Americans prisoners. Although this country did not recognize them, it nevertheless carried on long negotiations with the Chinese Reds to get the prisoners released. All but four are now free.

This country will probably attempt to follow the same course in seeking the release of the nine American soldiers now in East Germany.

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — Seven St. Louis residents were drowned in a river near Fenton, Mo.

For the first time in the history of Holland a woman was elected to the Dutch parliament. She was chosen on the Socialist Liberty ticket.

The Fourth passed quietly on all sectors of the war line occupied by American troops in France. At field headquarters there was a parade of children in the town, after which Gen. Pershing entertained the daughter of the French regional commander.

Ninety-four ships in America's merchant fleet were launched, bringing gross tons to 10,000,000 in the fleet with the construction of 1,622 new ships.

Nearly $1,000 was cleared at a Fourth of July celebration to benefit the American Red Cross, held in Morral.

20 YEARS AGO — The Ohio Tax Commission approved submission of a $410,000 Marion City school bond issue to vote on the Aug. 9 primary. The issue represented the school district's 55 per cent of the cost of a proposed $750,000 high school. The remaining funds were being sought from the federal government under the WPA program.

10 YEARS AGO — Violence claimed the lives of 182 persons as the three-day holiday passed the first lap. Only one of the fatalities was attributed to fireworks.

Thirty-nine persons, one of them an American, were killed in the worst disaster of British civil aviation history — the collision of two four-engined transport planes in a rainstorm over suburban London. Sir Edward Gent, British high commissioner for the Federation of Malaya and six Royal Air Force crew members died in the wreckage.

Miss Patricia Shellhorn, Richard E. Wilson Married

Miss Patricia Shellhorn became the bride of Richard E. Wilson in a candlelight service held Thursday night at 7:30 in the Emanuel Lutheran Church.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Shellhorn of 501 Forest St. and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Wilson of 640 Mary St. exchanged vows before the Rev. M. E. Hollensen, pastor of the church.

The ceremony was preceded by nuptial music presented by Miss Dianne Copeland, vocalist, and Mrs. William Ackerman, organist.

The altar, to which Mr. Shellhorn escorted his daughter, was decorated with white gladioli, palms and seven branch candelabra.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of perma soie nylon sheer, styled with a scoop neckline and shirred bodice trimmed in lace embroidered with sequins and pearls.

THE FLOOR - LENGTH skirt, which fell into a chapel train, was fashioned with a back interest of tucked matching embroidered lace.

Her fingertip veil of imported French illusion was caught to a crown of lace trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a heart-shaped bouquet of feathered carnations centered with a white orchid.

A romance blue gown of pure silk organza and taffeta was worn by the maid of honor, Miss Emily Rinnert.

The gown had a tucked sleeveless bodice with a scoop neckline in front, sloping to a V in back. A matching satin cummerbund encircled the waist above a bouffant ballerina-length skirt.

A circular veil attached to a matching satin disk-shaped hat formed the headpiece. She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of white glamelias tied with blue streamers.

The bridesmaids, Miss Mary Barkley, and Miss Pat Wilson, sister of the bridegroom, and junior bridesmaid, Ellen Faye Shellhorn, sister of the bride, were attired in gowns and accessories identical to those of the honor attendant.

Michael Lehner, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Another cousin, Terrie Lynn Lehner, the flower girl, wore a dress of white flocked nylon with a blue satin cummerbund. She carried a basket of white glamelias.

—:—

TED BIBLER was best man. Ushering were Dave Townsend, Larry Henry and Jim Kratzer.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception which followed in the church parlors, Mrs. Shellhorn chose a champagne cotton lace sheath with a cummerbund of matching nylon chiffon.

A matching nylon chiffon hat, champagne-colored accessories and a corsage of orange rosebuds completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Wilson wore a mauve sheath gown, styled with an overskirt and a matching illusion hat and accessories. Orchids were her flower.

A square three-tiered wedding cake trimmed with blue hearts and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom centered the refreshment table, which was otherwise decorated with white gladioli and blue delphiniums.

Mrs. Wesley Carr, Mrs. Thomas Bland, Miss Linda Pensinger and Miss Lynn Schroeder were hostesses. Wedding mood music was played on the piano by Miss Margaretann Romine, while Miss Carol Hollensen registered the guests.

Hoover Visits World Fair as Envoy for Ike

BRUSSELS (AP)—Ex-President Herbert Hoover arrived Thursday to visit the World Fair as President Eisenhower's special envoy. There was some quick action by fair officials to prevent him from seeing what a poor vote-getter he is here.

Hoover last ran for public office in the 1932 American presidential race won by Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Visitors to the American pavilion here are invited to vote for the man they regard as the greatest American statesman. The tally is kept on a huge scorecard panel. The latest total showed the 83-year-old Hoover at the bottom of the list of eight, with only 979 votes of 46,155 cast.

The scorecard was torn down Thursday. Officials said it had nothing to do with Hoover's visit.

"We're having another and better panel made," said one, "but it's not ready yet."

Coughing by Audience No Bother to Actress

NEW YORK (AP)—Broadway Actress Eileen Heckert never lets a cough in the audience fret her. It's just a matter of timing.

"People who can't help coughing do it in a certain rhythm," says Miss Heckert who plays a lead role in "The Dark At the Top of the Stairs." "I've learned to time my lines according to that rhythm—and now I'm able to avoid having a line destroyed by a cough."

Bergman Tells AP She Plans To Wed Again

LONDON (AP)—Ingrid Bergman after two marriages ending in sadness, plans to wed Swedish theatrical producer Lars Schmidt "when it's legally possible."

The Swedish-born actress confirmed this Thursday in a telephone talk with The Associated Press.

Miss Bergman, 42, and the mother of four children by her previous marriages, is still married to Italian film producer Roberto Rossellini. But they obtained a legal separation last year, and an Italian court is expected to decide on Rossellini's application for an annulment within a month.

Told there was increasing speculation of her marriage to the wealthy 41-year-old Schmidt, and that rumors probably would grow, Miss Bergman said:

"Oh, well, then—but please, I want to give no impression that I am seeking to make an announcement."

She said she did not want to give the impression of ancipating the Italian court's decision on the annulment, "but the fact remains that we do plan to marry when everything is legally possible."

"After our mariage," she added "we plan to live in France."

Long Weekend May Bring 410 Traffic Deaths

By The Associated Press

The start of the July 4th weekend Thursday put long strings of cars on the highways.

The National Safety Council estimated that traffic accidents may cost 410 lives in the period that began at 6 p.m. local time Thursday and will end at midnight Sunday.

NSC figured 45 million cars will travel 12 billion miles during the 78-hour holiday period.

A study of background influences showed bad and good factors. Motor vehicle fatalities have been on the decline this year. For the first five months of 1958 the toll was 7 per cent below the total for the corresponding period of 1957.

But during the recent Memorial Day weekend 371 traffic deaths were reported — a record for a three-day observance of that holiday.

The weather, always a factor, was mixed. There were wet patches on the weather map at beginning of the Independence Day weekend. Rain and slippery roads usually flash a go-slow signal to drivers.

Sunny weather was forecast for most of the country for Friday. But rain was indicated for some parts of the South and Midwest in the afternoon or evening.

Sheriff Probes Beating

WATER VALLEY, Miss. (AP)—Sheriff J. G. Treloar says he is investigating a report that a Negro was so severely beaten in jail here that he died soon after release.

Relatives of Woodrow Wilson Daniels, 35, reported he was beaten while in county jail and died in a Memphis hospital two days after he was released from jail on bond.

Daniels was jailed here June 21 on charges of reckless driving and possession of whisky.

Employes Reject Union at Can Co.

Employes at the National Can Co. plant here turned down union representation in an election conducted Thursday by the National Labor Relations Board.

Splitting their vote between two of three choices, the 28 employes who participated in the election voted 14 for the International Association of Machinists to serve as their bargaining agent and 14 for no union representation. None voted for representation by the United Steel Workers, the other choice on the ballots, according to a tally by the NLRB.

Since neither union received a majority vote, NLRB rules specify that neither will be certified as the bargaining unit for the plant employes, a spokesman said.

The election was conducted by Miss Nora Friel of the Cleveland branch office of the NLRB.

Bible Words for Today

LUKE 5:16 — "He withdrew to the wilderness and prayed."

Learning to listen to God in this noisy, demanding world is a difficult yet essential discipline for the 20th Century disciple. Voices and activities clamor for our attention.

The Master faced the same dilemma. In order not to lose sight of His mission He withdrew often into quiet places with God. His disciples were willing to work for the Lord, but they were reluctant to wait for power. There was so much to do; the crowds were so demanding; the activity was so impressively important. It was easy to rationalize their failure to wait on God. They were busy being disciples. But the Master knew how quickly their active lives would be deflected from spiritual purposes. He drew them into creative stillness with God.

The modern disciple must learn that attentive silence before God is not a waste of time away from constructive activity. Without such discipline there can be no discipleship. God speaks to us in silent places.

$100,000 Temple Will Be Built by Bucyrus Masons

BUCYRUS—Plans are underway for construction of a $100,000 Masonic Temple on the south side of Bucyrus.

Members of the various Masonic bodies and the Order of Eastern Star have given approval to preliminary plans for the structure, which will be erected in the 1200 block of South Sandusky Ave. opposite the M. E. Schieber residence.

Plans call for construction of a one-story brick building with a full basement. Ample parking space and auto entrances on both sides of the building will be provided.

A bequest of $500 has already been received and two bequests of $10,000 each are expected to be received in the near future, according to Elger M. Crum, president of the Bucyrus Masonic Temple Co.

Funds from the various Masonic groups together with sale of the present temple, located in the downtown district, are expected to bring in about $50,000. The remainder is expected to be raised by contributions from members.

Hoffa Linking Half of U.S. Transport Workers in Giant Pact

Teamsters' Boss Forges 'Power Bloc'

Land-Sea-Air Labor Combine Will Be Set Up by Fall, He Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa Thursday linked half the nation's transport workers in a giant mutual aid pact. Moreover, he said he'll compiete a land-sea-air labor combine before the summer is over.

Hoffa, riding high after a second recent acquittal on criminal charges, denied a suggestion he was erecting a big transport monopoly. He said it was merely a union alliance to deal with common transportation industry problems.

Far from being daunted by the Teamsters' ouster from the AFL-CIO on corruption charges, Hoffa wooed two key AFL-CIO unions into his new "Permanent Conference on Transportation Unity" and in effect thumbed his nose at the AFL-CIO.

One of those signing the deal with Hoffa was Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, representing East Coast sailors. Curran, an AFL-CIO Vice President, has been at odds with President George Meany.

The other immediate signer was Capt. William V. Bradley, president of the International Longshoremen's Assn., a union like the Teamsters exiled from the main body of organized labor on grounds it is riddled with hoodlums.

Hoffa said President Paul Hall of the AFL-CIO Seafarers International Union, long considered archrival of Curran's, knew all about the pact and "viewed it with great favor" as a probable partner.

INDEPENDENCE DAY CELEBRANTS. Four days of learning the meaning of the Fourth of July were climaxed in the four city playgrounds Thursday with parades staged by the participating boys and girls. Three of the paraders at George Washington school playground are shown here waiting to enter their bicycle "floats" in the parade there. They are (left to right) Timothy Lavender, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lavender of 264 Pennsylvania Ave.; Johnny Wollett, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wollett of 223 Pennsylvania Ave., and Susan Kingsley, 8½, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kingsley of 331 Clover Ave.

ers, Howard A. Roach of Watertown, N.Y., said Raul Castro was preparing a personal apology and explanation for the kidnaping. Roach said the apology was being revised and typed when he left the rebel hideout Wednesday.

The rebel broadcast, giving a statement by Fidel Castro, said the North Americans probably were not hostages but observers.

Castro's statement said: "It is possible this (the kidnaping campaign) was a reaction after the recent delivery of 300 rockets by the U.S. government to (President Fulgencio) Batista's forces. These rockets were used against civilians living in the territory where the rebels are operating. I found rocket remnants with serial numbers. Despite all this I ordered these citizens to be freed since they are not responsible for their government's action in sending arms to Batista."

It was possible that Castro has decided to release the North Americans in small batches in order to avoid detection by Cuban army forces based in the foothills of the Sierra Maestra, Castro's rebellion headquarters.

The Cuban government, however, has ordered a halt to its military operations in the area so the release of the prisoners could come off unhampered.

Red Cross workers were aiding the homeless and giving tyhpoid shots.

Sightseers were warned to stay out of the area. Motorists without emergency business in the flood-swept communities were being turned back.

surprise attack by one nation upon another.

He said the experts should be drawn from the United States, the U.S.S.R. and possibly representatives of some other governments.

The surprise attack issue has been raised by the United States with the Soviet Union in various ways for several years. Early in the Eisenhower administration, the President and his disarmament advisers concluded that this was perhaps the central problem in developing any effective disarmament system.

Moscow has blown hot and cold on the whole idea of inspection areas.

Soviet Idea Reportedly Gets British Approval

LONDON (AP)—Britain Thursday night was reported likely to accept Soviet Premier Khrushchev's idea for early talks by experts to devise an East-West system against surprise attack.

British officials recalled that Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd a year ago put forward a similar suggestion at a disarmament conference held here under U. N. auspices.

The foreign office, however, declined to comment officially on Khrushchev's proposal, which was sent to President Eisenhower Wednesday in an evident bid to revive prospects of a summit conference.

Austria's Theatergoers To See American Plays

NEW YORK (AP)—Austria is going to be a branch of Broadway during the 1958-59 theatrical season, reports the trade magazine Variety.

Nineteen works by American authors are being scheduled for multi-theater presentations. Eugene O'Neill leads the list with three plays, and Arthur Miller and Tennessee Williams are to be represented by two each.

Hagerty Sets Record Right On Hotel Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House denied Thursday that President Eisenhower and party ran out on a Miami hotel bill during the presidential campaign of 1952.

The denial followed publication of a story in the Tampa, Fla., Tribune saying the group ran up a $4,000 bill at Miami's Roney Plaza and left town without paying.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty disputed the Tribune's story after checking with A. B. Hermann, executive director of the Republican National Committee.

Haggerty reported that Eisenhower and an official party of 20 to 35 spent one night at the Roney Plaza Sept. 2, 1952. He said they were billed for about $1,500, but protested that this amount contained items not chargeable to the party.

In the end, Hagerty said, the Republican National Committee paid $964.13. A national committee aide said it received a voucher marked "paid in full."

Hagerty said the difference between the amount paid and the amount originally billed by the hotel reflected charges against persons who were not members of the official party.

Antibiotic After Effect

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Antibiotics not only kill germs, a Michigan State University professor has found, they also kill and inhibit bacteria which prevent fungus diseases.

This leaves the body susceptible to fungus diseases, said Dr. E. S. Beneke. Familiar forms of fungi are athlete's foot and ringworm, but more serious are internal fungus infections. Ways of curing fungus infections have been developed, Dr. Beneke said, but are not completely satisfactory.

Sheep Dipping Is Ordered for Ohio Markets

The Ohio Division of Animal Industry has made effective a new ruling designed to curb the spread of sheep scab, commonly called "scabies."

Effective immediately all sheep sold through any sales barn to go back to a farm must be dipped at the sales pavilion. James Smoot, manager of the Marion branch of the Producers Livestock Association, said the dipping will be done here starting Monday and each sale day through Nov. 13.

The only exception to the new order is with regard to western feeder lambs. They may go to the farm from a sale barn but only under quarantine conditions.

The ruling is effective in the 41 Ohio counties in which scab has been observed. Marion is one of these.

Ellwood Parott, county extension director, said scabies is to be particularly feared because it is contagious.

Time was when Ohio was sheep scab-free. In 1947, dipping at all Ohio markets, performed as matter of course, was discontinued. In 1950 there were three reported cases. In 1951 the number had increased to 11 and in 1952 it reached 21. A total of 59 cases were noted in 1953, 80 in 1954; 12 in 1955; and 152 in 1956.

The charge for dipping at Producers will be 25 cents a head, according to Mr. Smoot.

Scabies results in a general rundown condition of infected sheep, loss of wool and, in some instances, death.

Hostess on Air Liner Uses Material at Hand

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — An air lines stewardess used her silk stockings and girdle in giving first aid to an injured passenger.

Stewardess Barbara Grimes, Los Angeles, used the stockings to make a tourniquet for John Pernicano, 30, whose broken leg was punctured and bleeding. She used her girdle to pad a splint.

Pernicano was one of four passengers injured in the crash of the Western Air Lines plane.

NEEDY ACTORS AIDED

Industrialist John Q. Shunk Honored by Bucyrus Kiwanis

BUCYRUS—John Q. Shunk, 91-year-old retired Bucyrus industrialist and philanthropist, this week received the first distinguished Service Award ever awarded by the Bucyrus Kiwanis Club.

The award was presented to Mr. Shunk by a delegation of Kiwanians at his residence. The award includes a framed scroll and a miniature stone mason's mall, symbolic of the building arts and in keeping with the motto, "We Build," of the Kiwanis Club.

Selection of Mr. Shunk was made by a special board composed of representatives of the Business and Professional Women's Club, American Association of University Women, Ministerial Association, Inter-Club Council, American Legion and Kiwanis Club.

The selection board members said Mr. Shunk was selected because of "his contributions to the cultural life of the community and to education; his pioneering in the development of economic resources leading to the establishment of new permanent industries and the enlargement of industries already established; his record for unusually high type business and professional life and his welfare, recreational and educational leadership for boys and girls."

Kiwanis officials reported it is planned to bestow the award quarterly to nominees of the selection board.

safety officials nevertheless predicted 20 or more persons would meet accidental deaths in Ohio. The threat of rain and the attendant slippery roads makes traveling that much more dangerous.

There is less worry about fireworks. Communities throughout the state will be staging celebrations, but the fireworks displays, where there are any, are all supervised and controlled. If Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen or their children shoot off any of their own fireworks, they'll be breaking the law.

Attack Drives Rebels Out of Beirut Sector

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Pro-government forces counter attacked with an accompaniment of martial music in the hills above Beirut Thursday and recaptured Ainad villabe.

The antirebel move was mounted by 150 national police and vigilantes in the presence of four neutral Irishmen serving as U.N. observers.

The Irish officers happened on the battle-stating area just before the counterattack and were pinned down until it was over. They watched from behind walls.

The rebels were dislodged from southeast hill positions overlooking the capital. Overtones were supplied by phonograph loudspeakers.

Fire from rocket-firing planes, armored car guns, mortars and machine guns preceded the two-mile drive down the valley from Chemlan to regain Ainab after it was taken earlier in the day by the rebels. Shells set off forest fires in the hills.

The forces claimed they captured rebel machine guns that were made in Czechoslovakia. Leaders said they would be presented to the U.N. as evidence supporting government claims that the rebels have received massive aid from the United Arab Republic—a recipient of Iron Curtain arms.

from the red-cheeked, hitherto genial Goldfine, who said their use was routine and none of the committee's official business.

In another connection, Goldfine once again denied seeking any string-pulling by Adams on his behalf.

The subcommittee is assigned to investigate the conduct of government regulatory agencies, such as the Federal Trade Commission and Securities and Exchange Commission, which have handled cases involving Goldfine firms.

Goldfine did say, "Mr. Chairman, I will tell you under oath that none of these checks were used for entertainment, travel or hotel bills of any government official or employe."

O'Neill Okays Two Key Bills

Signs Poor Relief, Billboard Measures

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—All the work of last week's special legislative session was cleaned up Thursday when Gov. C. William O'Neill signed two bills—one to appropriate more poor relief money and the other to ban billboards.

The extra six-million-dollar appropriation insures that the state can match local relief spending dollar-for-dollar until early next year.

The billboard bill, effective in 90 days, bans most advertising devices within 660 feet of new and relocated sections of the interstate highway system. On the billboard bill, O'Neill commented:

"It is not as strong as I recommended; it is stronger than the federal act or other state laws with which I am familiar."

Enactment of the billboard law makes Ohio eligible for some extra federal aid in highway construction.

TYMOCHTEE

The annual inspection of Tymochtee Grange was conducted by Mr. and Mrs. George Bosley Jr. at a meeting at the grange hall Wednesday night.

Appointed during the business meeting to the card party committee for the next three months were Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Hart and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Mattix.

In other business, the group chose delegates and alternates for the State Grange convention.

Mrs. Thomas Steen, lecturer, was in charge of the program, which centered around a theme, taken from the inscription on the Liberty Bell: "Liberty through the world unto all inhabitants thereof."

Her thought for the day was "God mirth."

For the program, Jerry Soules recited a poem and Mrs. Steen spoke on "The American Flag."

A talk was given by Mrs. Thelma Emptage on "The Meaning of Our Flag" followed by a disscusion on the new star to be added to the flag by Mrs. Steen.

The juvenile portion of the program was built on the theme, "J.G. Sparklers—Faith, Hope and Freedom."

Lecturer Jeannie Soules, was narrator. The reading of "Love of the Juvenile Grange," by Jim Hickman was followed by the singing of three songs. All members participated in a true-false quiz on "Tomorrow's Tomorrow." The meeting closed with the group singing, "God Bless America" to the piano accompaniment of Mrs. Mary Burnett.

Floral decorations for the affair were furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hudnall and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burnett.

Members welcomed back a former member at the meeting; Lester Berlin Jr. He was accompanied by his English bride and son.

Announcement was made of an ice cream festival and supper to be held at the grange hall, July 9. The event will be open to the public.

On Friday night, July 11, there will be a card party at the grange hall and the Pomona Grange will meet there on Saturday night.

GRAND PRAIRIE

George Bosley, county deputy, conducted annual inspection when the Grand Prairie Grange met Tuesday night at the Grand Prairie School.

Theme of the program planned by Mrs. Walter Lyon was "Life, Liberty, Happiness."

Mrs. Lyon gave the history of the nation and read a part of the Declaration of Independence. A tableau on "Our American Flag" was narrated by Mrs. John Shelton.

Miss Diana Brewer presented a flute solo, "The Star Spangled Banner," accompanied on the piano by her mother, Mrs. Delmar Brewer.

Michael Lucas recited "Wag My Dog" and a humorous article was read by Mrs. Paul Lill. Other music on the program was provided through the violin solo presented by Walter Lyon. Mrs. Lyon accompanied him on the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Risch and Mrs. Louise Pride staged a hunt followed by a recitation by Miss Carol Lucas. Mrs. Robert Evans and Mrs. Harold Ludwick were featured in a playlet. The thought for the day given by Mrs. Lyon was, "What Makes a Nation Great."

During the business meeting conducted by Master Harold Ludwick, a committee was appointed to make plans for a grange fair booth. On the committee are Mrs. Richard Lucas, Mrs. Delmar Brewer and Mrs. Mary Ludwick.

It was announced that the Pomona Grange meeting will be Saturday, July 12, at the Tymochtee Grange.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Vella Hinamon and Mrs. Hazel Hinamon.

State Agriculture Board Is Planning Tour of Inspection

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Everyone knows the general is coming so you can be sure everything will pass inspection.

The big inspection comes off July 16-18 when the state agriculture board makes its annual tour. This year the board will visit northwestern Ohio, inspecting packing plants, bakeries, produce warehouses, grain dealers and milling companies.

They will accompany regular inspectors from the state Agriculture Department's Markets and Foods and dairies Divisions.

Everyone along the way has been alerted, says Dr. James R. Hay, state agriculture director. An advance man for the department has gone over the route that includes Kenton, Findlay, Bowling Green Maumee and Toledo—to see how long it takes to get from one place to another.

Heading the delegation of 19 will be Ben Van Gordon of Hamilton, a farmer and Butler County commissioner who is president of the Agriculture Board, an advisory body to the department. The other 11 board members will be there as will Dr. Hay, Edward C. Haaf, chief of the state Foods and Dairies Division, and Wesley Windisch, chief of the state Division of Markets.

Infant Drowns

COSHOCTON, Ohio (AP)—Jeffrey Olinger, 1, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Olinger of Rt. 1, Coshocton, fell into a watering trough Thursday and drowned.

Sheriff's deputies said the accident took place near the home of the boy's grandfather, Rufus Olinger, also of Rt. 1, Coshocton.

Three Soldiers Flee From Military Prison

HARRISBURG, Pa (AP)—Two Ohioans were among three prisoners who escaped early Thursday from an Army disciplinary barracks at nearby New Cumberland. A widespread search was under way.

All three were serving terms for Army desertion. They were identified as Emmett W. Robinson, 25, of Columbus, Ohio; James S. Perkins, 21, whose mother lives at Galion, Ohio, and Robert W. Owsley, 21, Dock, Ky.

St. Augustine, Fla., is the oldest permanent white settlement in the United States. It was founded in 1565.

Rubber Union, Firestone Sign Wage Contract

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. and the United Rubber Workers agreed on an 8-cent hourly pay raise for 16,000 employes in eight cities.

The settlement Thursday followed a pattern set Tuesday night when Goodyear Tire & Rubber and B. F. Goodrich Co. and the URW reached agreements covering 33,000 production workers.

One other member of the rubber industry's big four—U. S. Rubber Co.—is still in negotiations. The bargaining in New York City is aimed at an expiration date of July 15.

Firestone and the union deferred negotiations on pensions and insurance until next April 15, as the union and Goodyear and Goodrich had done earlier this week.

The URW said Firestone employes' average hourly straight-time earnings, company-wide, were $2.58 going into the negotiations in which the union asked for a "substantial" but unspecified pay hike and the company wanted a one-year freeze on wages.

Crop Insurance Okayed For Corn and Soybeans

Rep. Jackson E. Betts announced today that the Federal Crop Insurance Corp. of the Department of Agriculture will include corn and soybeans as insured crops in Marion and Morrow Counties beginning with the 1959 crop year. Insurance coverage is already offered on wheat in this same area.

In a letter to Rep. Betts, the FCIC reported that this action was based on recommendations of the state director and the interest shown in crop insurance by the farmers of both counties. The Ohio legislator said he believed most farmers affected would be pleased by the department's action.

Boat Breaks Loose, Hits Car in Delaware County

A boat slammed into the side of a car on U.S. Rt. 23 just south of the Marion County line in Delaware County Thursday night in an accident investigated by state patrolmen from the Marion post.

The boat was secured to a trailer being towed by a car driven by Maurice E. Edminster, 52, of the Twin Oaks Trailer Court and struck a car driven by Donald J. Sifter, 20, of Lorain when the trailer hitch and safety chain broke loose, patrolmen said.

Sifter swerved his northbound auto onto the east berm but the southbound trailer and boat caught the left rear side of the car, the patrol said. Damage to the boat was minor and Sifter's auto was moderately damaged, patrolmen reported. No one was injured.

45 Crack Par in First Round of Rubber City Open

Youngstown Ace, Art Wall Share Top Place at Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The race for the $22,000 pot of gold in the fifth annual rubber city golf tournament turned into a birdie shooting contest Thursday as 45 of the 130 starters broke par.

Out front at the end of the first of four 18-hole rounds with six-under-par 65s were 31-year-old Ed Griffiths of Youngstown, holder of the Ohio Open title, and Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa. whose big claim to fame is that he has shot 34 holes in one and who grips his club as he would a baseball bat.

Finishes Round, Leaves

Griffiths, former assistant PGA tournament director, was among the early finishers and he headed home immediately to fill some club teaching engagements.

Two foreigners—28 - year - old Frank Phillips of Sydney, Australia, the "down-under" Open champion, and Al Balding, former artilleryman from Markham, Ontario—were next with 66s. Balding could have tied for the top spot, but a 12-foot putt on the final green hit the back of the cup and stayed out.

Tommy Bolt of Paradise, Fla., the National Open champion, paid his $500 to the PGA for various activities lately, then set out to win it back by shooting a 33-35—68 over the Firestone Country Club's 6,620-yard, 35-36—71 layout.

Nicklaus Fires 67

Jackie Nicklaus, Ohio State freshman from Columbus, led the amateur contingent with a startling 32-35—67. That put him in a four-way deadlock with Wesley Ellis Jr. of Ridgewood, N. J., Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y.

Arnold Palmer, Masters champion and the year's leading money winner, played without benefit of a practice round and had a 36-36—72, seven strokes off the pace and one over par. Palmer won last year's Rubber City open.

The field will be cut to the low 60 professionals and 10 amateurs following today's round, and 18-hole sessions will be held Saturday and Sunday. First prize is $2,800.

Shovel Nine Clips Whirlpool, Takes First Round Title

Marion Power Shovel derailed Whirlpool 3-2 Thursday night at Garfield park to grab the first round title in Industrial League No. 1 softball action.

The Shovel nine shoved over three runs in the second inning. The scoring came on hits by Roscoe Gruber and Bud Thorpe, a fielder's choice and an error. Thorpe's hit, a triple, was blow which drove in the runs.

Whirlpool came storming back in the fourth inning to push over its two runs before Thorpe was able to get out of danger. Hits by Crider and Augenstein, an error and a sacrifice accounted for the runs. Millisor finished with three hits for the Whirlpool nine.

Thorpe went the distance for the title win. He was nicked for eight base hits but kept them scattered. His mates were charged with a pair of errors. He struck out nine. Monroe, the losing pitcher, gave up four hits and struck out two. His mates committed one error.

OPEN DISTRICT PLAY. Marion's American Legion Junior baseball team will open its bid for the Sixth District title in tournament action Saturday. Marion's first tourney assignment is against a West Jefferson-London combine in a 10 a.m. contest at Prospect. At the same time, Newark and Mount Vernon will battle at Delaware. The two losers will meet at 2 p.m. at Prospect with the winner of the Delaware opener taking on Marysville at the same time. Should Marysville win its first game it will be matched against the Marion-West Jefferson game Sunday. Members of the Marion team are (front row left to right) Joe Moore, Pete Porietis, Gerald Bosh, Don Conkle, Rocky Evans and Vance Crevistion. Second row: Marion Waits, manager, John Keller, Larry Ishida, Ken Coffae, Jim Moody and Francis Welty, business manager. Other members are Larry Ambrose, Bob Wilson, Dave Kelly, Gary Crum, Phil Reid and John Nichols.

Althea Gibson Reaches Final At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Defending champion Althea Gibson of New York and Angela Mortimer, her old British rival, surged Thursday to the Wimbledon women's singles final with relentless displays of near - perfect tennis.

The American titleholder served and volleyed Ann Haydon, a 19-year-old British lefthander, out of the tournament 6 - 2, 6 - 0. She wasn't even breathing heavily when she walked in triumph off the center court 30 minutes after she started.

Whips Hungarian Star

In the other semifinal Miss Mortimer — playing an entirely different type of game — crushed little Mrs. Suzy Kormoczy of Hungary with unerring backcourt steadiness 6-0, 6-1. She completed the job in 25 minutes.

The two girls will meet Saturday for the title in a match which tennis enthusiasts hope will provide a great test of conflicting styles — Miss Gibson's booming overhead game against Miss Mortimer's angled drives.

Ashley Cooper and Neale Fraser, two sunburned Australians who grew up together on the tennis courts of Melbourne, will battle for the men's singles crown today. Cooper was runnerup last year to compatriot Lew Hoad, now a professional.

Miss Mortimer, ill for more than a year with a virus infection, has made a comeback physically and in the tennis world. In four meetings with Miss Gibson, Miss Mortimer has won three times but the American player unseated her as the French champion in 1956.

Miss Gibson also advanced in mixed doubles, keeping alive her hopes of a rare Wimbledon triple. She and Kurt Nielsen of Denmark won over Rod Laver of Australia and Christine Truman of Britain in the fourth round 6-4, 6-3. The Harlem girl and Maria Bueno of Brazil gained the women's doubles semifinals Wednesday.

Americans still had a chance to bolster their crumbling tennis fortunes in the tandem divisions.

MacKay, Rose Join

Towering Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, and Mervyn Rose of Australia pushed into the men's doubles semifinals past a Yugoslav pair, Ilija Panajotovic and Ivko Plecevic, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2.

Mrs. Margaret du Pont of Wilmington, Del., perhaps still the the best woman doubles player in the world, and Margaret Varner of El Paso, Tex., gave the United States a wholly American entry in the women's semifinals. They beat Edda and Ilse Buding of Germany 6-3, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2.

And Miss Varner, a physical education instructor who is one of the best badminton players in the world, joined Bob Perry of Los Angeles in winning a fourth round contest, in mixed doubles. Their victims were E. J. Hurry and Jean Forbes of South Africa 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

For other Americans it was a day of bitter disappointment. The amazing, 44 - year - old Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla., perhaps playing his last Wimbledon, and Brazil's Miss Bueno lost in mixed doubles to Bob Howe and Lorraine Coghlan of Australia 3-6, 6-4, 6-1. Janet Hopps of Seattle, suffering a leg injury, was forced along with her partner, Bill Quallian of Seattle, to default in mixed doubles.

Ohio's Fishing Prospects for Holiday Good

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio fishermen poised for a big holiday weekend of fishing got the word they've been waiting for today—"fishing conditions throughout the state much improved over last week."

Most major streams are in fair to good fishing condition, with improvement in both lake and stream fishing reported generally in all areas.

Here's the rundown on conditions by sections:

NORTHWEST—Fishing improved in area and such lakes as St. Marys, Oxbow and East Harbor in good condition. Most streams likewise are in fair condition although the fishing pressure is rather light.

NORTHEAST — Virtually all lakes are clear and normal with bass, bluegills, crappies, and catfishing making up most of the catch. Most streams normal, outlook fair.

EAST CENTRAL - SOUTHEAST —All major streams in this section in fair to good condition. Most lakes including Burr Oak, Leesville, Glendening, Tappan and Forked Run are in perfect condition. Among the major streams the Muskingum and Walhonding should be good for the coming weekend.

CENTRAL-SOUTH—In this area such favorite lakes as Hoover, Delaware, Buckeye, Rocky Fork, Knox and Jackson are clear and normal. Most streams including Olentangy, Big and Little Walnut, and parts of Big and Little Darby are fair to good.

SOUTHWEST—Good fishing reported for most lakes and streams; most lakes including Grant, Kiser, Stonelick, Cowan, Sinclair, Indian and Hosterman in perfect condition. Fishing expected to be fair to good for coming weekend.

SANDUSKY BAY-BASS ISLAND AREA—Fishing is fair in Sandusky Bay with perch, catfish, and some white bass making up most of the catch. In the Bass Island area perch are being taken at Mouse Island and Kelley's Island. Some white bass and smallmouth are being taken around Middle Bass and North Bass Island. Fishing expected to be fair for weekend.

Russian Crew Conquers Top Entry of U.S.

HENLEY—ON—THAMES, England (AP)—The Russians wiped out the top American eight at the Henley Royal Regatta Thursday in a bitterly fought race rowed at the height of a thunderstorm.

Russia's Trud crew led the University of Washington varsity crew by one and one half lengths, with a background of deafening thunderclaps, forked lightning, pounding hailstones and rain that made the race all but invisible to spectators.

The clash came in a preliminary round of the Grand Challenge Cup competition—the major eight-oar event of the big regatta. The Russians covered the rain-lashed mile and 550-yard course on the narrow Thames River in six minutes, 49 seconds—19 seconds slower than the record established by Cornell in winning the Grand Challenge Cup last year.

The Russian crew now is favored to capture the cup. This crew is known as the Trud (Labor) Club of Leningrad. It is the same—with one exception—as the eight beaten by Cornell in the semifinals last year.

The American score in the second day of racing in this big four-day fiesta for oarsmen was three victories and four defeats.

Bond Market Firm

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. government bonds Thursday recouped a little of the ground lost earlier this week while corporates mostly scored moderate gains.

Among the corporates, rails gave the best performance. Some convertible issues also were in demand and several foreign bonds made substantial advances, although on light volume.

Trading in corporates amounted to $4,060,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange compared with $5,040,000 Wednesday.

Mantle Belts Pair, Yanks Clip Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Yankee home runs—two of them mighty belts by Mickey Mantle—helped Whitey Ford beat Washington's Senators for the 12th straight time over a five year span Thursday. The score was 11-3.

For Ford, who has the best percentage among veteran major league pitchers, this was victory No. 101 in a career which has seen him lose only 36. The Senators have beaten him only three times in 20 decisions, and their last conquest of the lefthander occurred on Sept. 20, 1954.

Mantle's homers, both at the expense of Washington starter Russ Kemmerer, were his 17th and 18th of the season.

The first, with one on in the fifth, cleared the 31 - foot high rightfield barrier by 2 feet, 370 feet from home plate. His second blast, also with one on in the seventh, landed about 20 rows up in the left - centerfield bleachers, about 410 feet away.

Robinson Studies Possible Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson may decide to fight again this year after all. The middleweight champion has asked Truman Gibson, International Boxing Club president, for a Tuesday meeting to discuss future bouts.

The IBC said Robinson would not necessarily discuss a third match with ex-champion Carmen Basilio, who already has a late August date in Los Angeles with Art Aaron. However, it was believed that only a Basilio match could lure Robinson back into the ring.

Robinson said earlier the income tax situation would make it unprofitable for him to fight again in 1958. He recaptured his title from Basilio at Chicago, March 25.

Result of Indictment

Boxing Manager, Judge Suspended

NEW YORK (AP) — Boxing Judge Bert Grant and fight manager Hymie Wallman were suspended indefinitely by the New York State Athletic Commission Thursday. The action was the result of Grant's indictment Wednesday by a New York grand jury on charges of accepting bribes in five bouts involving Wallman's boxers. Grant has denied the charges and is free on bail.

Julius Helfand, commission chairman, announced the double action after a special meeting. He also said the commission was preparing charges against Wallman as soon as possible to revoke his licenses as a second and manager.

Charges Drawn

Helfand said William Thomas, commission counsel, had been instructed to draw up the charges against Wallman by Monday and a date for the hearing would be set immediately.

Two referees, Al Berl and Teddy Martin, had appeared and testified fully after signing waivers of immunity. Helfand said he had been told Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan's office had no intention of recalling either referee.

"I can tell you that I assigned Berl to work last Monday at St. Nicholas Arena," said Helfand. "That is what I thought about him. And unless I receive a valid or powerful reason Martin also will be assigned to work."

Wallman, a furrier and fight manager, has been called by Hogan's office as the front man for Frankie Carbo, a shadowy figure who allegedly has great influence in boxing circles.

Fighters Handled

The seven fighters, managed by Wallman, under contracts filed with the New York commission are:

Heavyweights Alex Miteff of Argentina and Willie James of Boston, light heavyweight Phil Saxton of Elizabeth, N. J., middleweight Charley Joseph of Toledo, Ohio, welterweight Jimmy Peters of Washington, lightweight Tommy Roberts of New York and featherweight Ike Chestnut of New York.

Grant, who pleaded innocent and was released on bail Wednesday, was indicted on one count of conspiracy and 10 of bribery on charges he accepted a total of $400 from Wallman to influence his voting in five fights from 1954 to early 1958.

Bouchee Belts Home Run in Phillies' Win

MILWAUKEE (AP) — With Ed Bouchee contributing a home run in his first National League appearance of the season, the Philadelphia Phils defeated the Milwaukee Braves 3-1 Thursday at County Stadium, delivering to Robin Roberts the 195th victory of his great career.

Bouchee, making his first start after pleading guilty to a morals charge last March, was greeted by a momentary silence, then a polite spatter of applause when he came to the bat in the first. He was called out on strikes.

But in the eighth, with the score tied 1-1 and Braves rookie Carl Willey after his third major league decision without a defeat, Solly Hemus led off with a home run and Bouchee followed with another.

For Roberts—who has lost 150 games—it was his 29th decision over the Braves against 19 losses. His season record now is 6-8. Willey stands 2-1.

Ireland Entry Takes Lead in Britain's Open

ST. ANNE'S—ON—SEA, England (AP)—Leg weary, 56-year-old Gene Sarazen earned the right to play in the final 36 holes of the British Open Golf Championship Thursday with a second round of 73.

Eleven strokes behind the leader, Christy O'Connor of Ireland, with a 146 that barely qualified for the last two rounds, the stocky golfing squire of Germantown, N.Y., had little or no chance of doing more than just play today.

"I'm too tired to be playing golf, but I'll finish it out, anyway," he said as he walked wearily off the 18th green after taking a one-over-par five on the last hole.

The Royal Lytham and St. Anne's course, rated as one of Britain's championship courses, took a beating Thursday such as it never before had experienced.

O'Connor, a member of the 1957 Ryder Cup team and British match play champion, fired a 68 after Wednesday's 67 for a 135 that gave him the lead at the halfway point of the tournament.

Argentina's big-hitting Leopoldo Ruiz shot a record-equalling 65 for second place at 136. England's Eric Lester had a 66; Harry Weetman, England, and Donald Swaelens, Belgium, had 67s and O'Connor and Dave Thomas of Wales had 68s. The scoring was so good that all players with 148 or more were dropped from the final 36 holes.

Par for the 6,635-yard seaside course is 35-36 — 71 and it had been expected to play long after nearly a week of rain had left deep water in the low places and made the greens almost muddy.

Thomas moved into a third place tie with Peter Thomson of Australia at 138. Thomson, winner of the British Open in 1954-55-56 had established himself as a strong favorite to repeat when he led the 36-hole qualifying test and Wednesday's first round.

But Thursday Thomson broke out in a rash on his legs and shot an uncomfortable 72, six strokes higher than his opening 66. The itchy bumps were diagnosed as an allergy.

The second American who qualified for the championship, Army Sgt. Monte Bradley of Hillsboro, Texas, who is on leave from his post in Germany, didn't qualify for the final 36.

Landis Leads White Sox in Win Over A's

CHICAGO (AP) — Jim Landis, who has hit safely in 30 of his last 32 games, smashed a two-run double and two-run single Thursday to groove the Chicago White Sox to a 7-2 victory over the Kansas City A's.

The decision, abetted by Earl Battey's No. 3 homer in the fourth inning and a pair of walk-in runs in a weird eighth, went to Jim Wilson for a 7-6 season record.

But the veteran righthander needed help, collapsing in the eighth after holding the A's scoreless on five hits.

With two out, Wilson walked Chico Carrasquel and then served successive singles to Roger Maris, Preston Ward and Harry Simpson, good for two runs. Bob Shaw made Hal Smith fly out to retire the side.

Orioles Whip Bosox 7-5 in 15-Inning Tilt

BOSTON (AP) — Hobbling Joe Ginsberg stroked a long pinch single to left field for the deciding run Thursday as Baltimore defeated the Boston Red Sox 7-5 in 15 innings. The rain-interrupted contest which went four hours, 23 minutes was the longest of the American League season.

Billy Loes, third Orioles pitcher, worked the final 5 2-3 innings for his second triumph against seven setbacks. In the bottom of the 15th he struck out Frank Malzone, Jackie Jensen and Dick Gernert to nail down the verdict.

Al Pilarcik started the Baltimore 15th with a single and moved to second on a sacrifice by Billy Gardner who had contributed four of the Orioles' 22 safeties.

Then Ginsberg came out of the dugout, hit a drive to deep left to score the marginal run and limped down to first on an ailing leg.

Chicago Cubs Clip Giants 4-3

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Shortstop Ernie Banks crashed a 380-foot home run over the left field fence in the eighth inning Thursday to give the Chicago Cubs a 4-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants in their series opener.

A crowd of 9,477 watched the slim infielder belt his 21st homer of the season, putting him just one behind the league - leading pace of Pittsburgh's Frank Thomas. The drive caused righthander Paul Giel's third pitching loss of the season.

Giel had thrown a two - run homer pitch to Dale Long in the fourth inning. Long slammed the ball back 400 feet over the fence in center field, scoring Walt Moryn ahead of him.

Glen Hobbie, needing relief in the ninth, gained credit for the victory, making him 6-6 for the season.

SEE ALL THESE PEOPLE

See what they're doing?

They're all looking at that "for sale" sign. That's because the fellow put his sign right where everyone would see it . . . and better, yet, notice it.

After all, if you have something to sell, you want people to know about it, because if they don't know about it, how are they going to buy it?

That fellow sure got attention from a lot of people.

And if you think that's something, ponder on this:

Those interested people are a mere drop in the bucket compared to the folks who pay attention to the ads in the Star Want Ad section.

A Want Ad in the Star is seen by 75,316 people . . . and not just ordinary people, either. The Star Want Ad readers are Customers (note the capital "C") They're looking to buy, otherwise they wouldn't be reading the Want Ads.

If you have something to sell, you've got to tell people about it . . . and the best place to do that is in the Marion Star Want Ads!

German Girl Enjoys Freedom in U.S.

Glad She Made Decision To Leave Homeland For Marion Job

Annelies Beier hesitated to leave her home and her friends in East Germany when she crossed to the western sector in 1947, but just a few months ago she faced even a greater decision—whether to leave her homeland and begin life in a new country.

It took two invitations and considerable persuasion, but she finally accepted the challenge and today is realizing the dream of security and happiness here in Marion.

Annalies stepped on American soil for the first time little more than six weeks ago. After a two-week visit with a sister in Syracuse, N.Y., she came here where both a job and home were awaiting her.

THE ATTRACTIVE blond German woman is living with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wills of 3 Eckley Dr. and is employed as a dental assistant by Dr. Robert I. Imbody, a local dentist who began practice here in April.

She came to Marion well acquainted with both the Wills and Imbody families as she had met them abroad. The friendships ripened while she was employed by Maj. and Mrs. Robert M. Wills, now of Mountain Home, Ida. for whom she worked in both Germany and in The Hague, Netherlands. Maj. Wills is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wills.

Annelies also spent one year in Holland with Dr. Imbody's mother, Mrs. Stella Imbody of Sara Ave.

Her hometown, Weimarthuringia, is a picturesque city dotted with ancient castles. It was not molested with Communist rule until 1947.

Annelies and her family survived World War II and her father, held in a concentration camp was released to come home. Shortly thereafter, however, her mother died.

When the Communists took over her city, everyone began leading an uncomfortable existence, being prodded to join the party, and often being sent away to camps if they resisted iron rule. Soldiers were arrogant, but would not harm one if one stayed indoors, Annelies explained as she recalled the months she had lived under the Communist regime.

Fortunately the border between the East and the West sectors was not too heavily guarded in the first months of Communist occupation. By hiding her luggage from suspicious authorities she was able to reach the border and cross unharmed in an area free of guards. "It is not like it is today with barbed wire all along the line," she said.

TWO MONTHS AGO Miss Annelies Beier was a resident of Germany. Now she's a receptionist in the office of Dr. Robert I. Imbody of Marion whom she met while the local dentist was serving overseas. She makes her home here with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wills of 3 Eckley Dr., who also met her in Germany when she was employed by the Wills' son and wife as a governess for their children.

NONE OF HER family remains in the eastern sector of Germany. Her father crossed the border in 1951 and her sister, now living in Syracuse, crossed the line in 1949. A brother lives in Heidelberg.

After arriving in West Germany, Annelies settled in Weisbaden. There she attended high school at night while working in the day. The young woman became proficient not only in typing and shortland, but in speaking the English language as well.

She held both office and secretarial jobs, then met Maj. and Mrs. Wills who were seeking a governess for their children. She was employed by them in 1949 and remained with them until 1951 when the family was transferred back to this country.

They were the first Americans she ever knew and she immediately liked them. The job held a particularly warm spot in her heart because she loved children. In 1953 when Maj. Wills was sent to the Netherlands, the family again called Annelies into their service.

It was during her first period of employment with the family in Germany that she met Maj. Wills' parents, with whom she now resides.

"They always wanted a daughter and never had one," the young woman explained, "and for some reason they, too, liked me from the start." She has grown to consider them as parents.

Upon returning once more to the States Maj. and Mrs. Wills renewed their invitation for Annelies to come with them and make her home in this country. She explained that although she always had dreamed of coming to this country, she hesitated to leave her native soil.

IT WAS NOT until Dr. Imbody offered her the job as dental assistant in January, just before he returned home from Germany and a two-year hitch in the Army, that she decided to accept the offer. She made the trans-Atlantic trip by plane in May.

The young woman already seems completely Americanized. She speaks the language fluently and has found a place for herself in our way of life.

A person who has experienced a life of hard work, she feels America is a place of opportunity, but even those here must work for what they attain in life.

Annelies is a quiet woman whose earnest sincerity impressed this reporter. She also is somewhat of a philosopher. She muses on life and is intrigued by the beauty of nature. Classical music has become one of her favorite interests. "When I was younger, I could not understand it," she explained.

The younger Mrs. Wills she describes as her life teacher. "She taught me to be gay and happy," said Annelies. The young woman added that Mrs. Wills also introduced her to the American way of life in Germany. She was particularly awed with clothing styles, food and appliances. "But I liked them all," she explained, her eyes beaming.

After nearly one month as a dental assistant, she already takes pride in her work and enjoys it immensely. She is not the least bit disappointed in the United States or in Marion. Along with many other things she has found complete independence and freedom and "I love it," she said.

Mayor on Vacation

Mayor Wendell L. Strong will be out of the city on vacation until July 14.

The mayor said he and his family will spend part of their vacation visiting friends in Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, Md., and part of it at a resort at Ocean City, N.J. They expect to return to Marion on July 12 or 13.

Stock Market Hits New High For Year With Trading Active

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market Thursday defied the uncertainties of the three-day July 4 weekend and pushed forward doggedly to a new high for the year.

Reversing its usual habit in the face of a prolonged holiday, the market enjoyed an active session, piling up volume of 2,630,000 shares compared with 2,370,000 Wednesday.

In the past, Wall Streeters usually start their holiday trek in early afternoon, after tidying up their positions, and trading dwindles.

The market was an irregular affair throughout the day and the gain was small. The Associated Press average was so close to its mid-June high for the year, however, that it took only a little bit more to push it through for a new peak. Prices improved enough in late trading to insure the high.

Tobaccos were soft throughout the day, betraying nervousness over a new health report on cigarettes which is scheduled to be presented in London next week by an American scientist.

The list was further strengthened by gains among selected rails, airlines, nonferrous metals and an assortment of secondary stocks.

There was no particular business or economic news to spur the list forward but a considerable amount of investment buying and short covering was in evidence.

The AP 60-stock average rose 30 cents to $175.60, beating the previous high of $175.40 reached June 17. The industrials were up 10 cents, the rails up 50 cents and the utilities up 20 cents. The rails and utilities made new highs for the year.

Of 1,162 issues traded, advances totaled 556 and declines 325. There were 95 new highs for the year and one new low. International Shoe which has just reported a big drop in sales and earnings.

American Stock Exchange prices were generally higher on Volume of 1,060,000 shares compared with 890,000 Wednesday.

Tide of Wheat Hits Market, Price Tumbles

Bumper Crop, Short Storage Space Adds To Annual Squeeze

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Good harvesting weather, dwindling storage space and a heavy flow of grain to market are putting their annual squeeze on the wheat farmer.

But this season the squeeze is tighter than usual.

His average price, calculated by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, dropped this week to $1.45 a bushel, lowest since 1944. At the start of last year's crop run it was $1.75.

There is some falling off in the price of wheat every year during harvest, but this harvest hit all at once.

"It's seldom that combining is spread out over such a wide belt at the same time," Wright Smith, USDA grain market specialist, explained.

"The combining is going on at at exceptional speed. A week ago the harvest was delayed by rain. This week is hot and dry, ideal weather. The harvest extends from the Texas Panhandle to southern Nebraska, and the crop is pouring into channels on an unprecedented scale.

"The wheat is dry now," Smith said. "Concern over the rains, moisture content has dissipated. Demand is good, but buyers have a distinct trading advantage. Sellers are forced to meet their bids in order to move the wheat."

This situation, in turn, reflects on the market.

Morrow Girl Tumbles From Truck, Is Killed

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Six-year-old Gale Higginson of Morrow had begged her parents for permission to take a ride with a neighbor, in the cab of his dump truck. She got her chance Thursday.

But police said that as the neighbor, Wendell Short, 28, drove along, the car door suddenly swung open. The girl tumbled to the street and the rear wheels of the truck passed over her.

She died at a hospital about an hour after the accident.

Gets Shaky Majority

BRUSSELS (AP) — The eight-day-old government of Premier Gaston Eyskens, got a shaky majority in the Belgian House of Representatives Thursday with 106 deputies voting for it, 104 voting against and none abstaining. Two deputies were absent.

Grain Market

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat futures prices hit their usual harvesttime slide again Thursday on the board of trade but other grains also were weak as dealers backed away from making any large commitments over the three-day holiday weekend.

The heaviest pressure hit the wheat pit in the last hour of trading after word came that the strike of grain handlers in Kansas City might go unsettled over the weekend.

Since railroads have embargoed further wheat shipments to their already clogged yards in Kansas City, dealers expect much of the grain to be diverted to other terminals with big supplies probably coming to Chicago.

The strike against all but one Kansas City elevator came with the winter wheat harvest at its peak.

Cash prices of wheat in Kansas Thursday hit their lowest prices in 14 years, as predicted recently by the Department of Agriculture, because of the largest winter crop of record.

Wheat closed ⅝-⅞ cent a bushel lower, July $1.81-81¼; corn unchanged to 2⅛ cents lower, July $1.32⅛-¼; oats ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, July 64⅛; rye unchanged to ¾ higher, July $2.24¼-⅜; lard unchanged to 12 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $12.30.

The support for soybeans followed a report that the Chicago office of the Commodity Credit Corp. sold only about 83,000 bushels of government surplus stocks on Midwestern country markets Wednesday. Since the first of June these sales have been heavy and have totaled about 20 million bushels.

Livestock Prices

Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—The pre-holiday market for butcher hogs was steady to 25 cents lower Thursday with only a fair shipping demand although offerings were about 1,500 head less than expected.

The top price of $25 was paid for only about 250 head of 190-240 lb 1-2 grades. The same weights of 2-3 grades brought $24-24.75 and the 250-270 lb 2s and 3s $22.75-24.25. Some heavier 3s brought $23.23.50.

Sows sold at $18.50-22 and were 25 to 50 cents higher.

The supply of slaughter steers was increased by about 500 head held over from Wednesday's market and prices were steady to weak. Some of the holdovers, grading high good and prime, still were unsold and now are being held for offering on Monday.

Only one load of choice steers was sold. It brought $28.50 and most of the good to average choice kinds went at $25.50-27.50 with a few utility and standards at $22-25.

Vealers were steady and brought $28-31 for good and choice and $18-27 for utility and standard. Several loads of good and choice heifers moved at $25-26.60 with the market steady to weak. Buyers paid $20-24 for utility and standard grades. Bulls were steady to 25 cents lower. The utility and low commercials were $23.25-24.50.

The sheep market was slow with a few good and choice spring lambs selling at $23-26. Slaughter ewes were $5.50-6.50 for good and choice.

Central Ohio Hogs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hog prices continued climbing at Ohio's interior markets this week, averaging $24.63 per hundredweight, up 43 cents from last week.

Monday's opening price of $24.50 was 50 cents higher than last week's close. This week's closing price was $24.50 to $24.75.

Choice light sows closely followed the price trends for straight butcher hogs.

Receipts at 85 interior yards numbered 26,720 during the current four-day week, compared to 24,450 for five days last week.

1-B—IN MEMORIAMS

IN MEMORY of Tony A. Aldridge who passed away one year ago today, July 4th.
What would I give to clasp his hand,
His happy face to see,
To hear his voice and see his smile
That meant so much to me.
Sadly missed by children,
Jean and Kenneth Aldridge,
Phyllis Thompson.

IN LOVING memory of Spencer Lannum of 569 E. Mark St., who passed away one year ago today.
We lost a husband and dad with a heart of gold,
Who meant more to us than wealth untold.
Without a farewell he fell asleep,
With only memories for us to keep.
We have lost, but God has gained
The best husband and dad the world contained.
Sadly missed by
wife, daughter, and grandson.

THE LORD'S PRAYER
Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us, and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For Thine is the kingdom, and the power and the glory, for ever. Amen
